TERRIFIC FIRE BY ARTILLERY

Japanese Drive Back Russians and Assume the Offensive.

DESTROY GUNBOAT

One of the Mikado's Warships Was Blown Up and Sunk by a Mine.

THREE HUNDRED DROWNED

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

MUKDEN, Oct. 11.—A bloody battle is now raging about six miles north of Yenta railroad station. The Japanese on Sunday fell back along the whole front and the Russians advancing crossed the Schili river, which is about half way between Mukden and Liao-Yang, and came within three miles of Yentai; but yesterday the Japanese received strong reinforcements of infantry and artillery and not only held their positions but even assumed the offensive.

The fighting lasted the entire day and night. The Japanese directed their artillery fire with great skill and searched the Russian positions so fiercely that the Russians fell back north of the Schill river, which crosses the railroad seven miles from Yentai. The Russians this morning resumed their advance, once more crossed the Schili river and engaged the Japanese two miles south of it. A terrific artillery engagement is proceeding along the entire front. The result of the battle is still undecided.

Sending Back the Wounded.

A Russian correspondent telegraphs as follows:

"I have seen a number of the wounded who have been sent back from the front. It is impossible at present to enter into details of the operations on foot, but the men interviewed are in infinitely better spirits than were those who were retreating. Everyone is confident, and the men are all anxious to finish the war in order to get back home. None of them, however, has any idea of going home except as victors. We have enough troops, and the one determination of officers and men is to wipe out the Japanese."

A frightful duststorm, peculiar to this season in Manchuria, which raged on Saturday, was at its height while a battalion of the Pekoff regiment, with guns, attacked a Japanese force posted in a village east of the railroad and south of the Shakhe river, and drove out the Japanese after a stubborn resistance. Clouds of dust blinded the combatants and made it impossible to aim. The fingers of the soldiers were numbed with cold and a strong wind carried the shells beyond the mark. The Japanese got away in good order, carrying off their killed and wounded. The Russians lost 79 men.

The railroad is clear and not damaged as far as the Shakhe river. Liao-Yang is practically clear of Japanese troops, indicating that all of Field Marshal Oyama's men are north of the Taitse river.

Gunboat Sunk by a Mine.

TOKYO, Oct. 11.—The Japanese gunboat Hei Yen struck a mine in Pigeon bay, west of Port Arthur, September 18, and sank. Only four of her crew were rescued.

The loss of the armored gunboat Hei Yen was announced today and permission was granted by the authorities to publish the details of the disaster. Nearly 300 persons, her entire complement, were drowned. Two petty officers and two sailors managed to reach Chiaopai island from which they were rescued.

The Hei Yen, which was engaged on guard duty off Pigeon bay, was missed by the fleet and a search for the vessel was immediately begun. The petty officers and sailors found on Chiaopai island reported that at dusk, on September 18, a storm came up accompanied by high seas. The Hei Yen endeavored to return to her base when she suddenly struck a floating mine, which exploded under her starboard side amidships. The vessel began to sink and an attempt was made to lower the boats. The boats were swamped and the crew jumped into the sea, where, owing to the heavy combers, they were quickly drowned.

BEATEN AS HE PRAYED.

An Evangelist Is Assaulted as He Asked for a Blessing on His Assailants.

WASHINGTON, PA., Oct. 11.—(Special.)—While on his knees, praying for his assailants, Evangelist David Crane was set upon by a gang of ruffians in East Canonsburg last night and kicked and beaten, and left bruised and bleeding in the street.

Crane, with others, was conducting a meeting in East Pike street. David McCartney, Crane's assistant, was singled out and made the butt for vulgar remarks by several men in the crowd. Crane told McCartney to go home, and then dropped on his knees and began a prayer for his tormentors. As he knelt he was knocked over and then kicked, beaten and jumped upon. The assailants escaped.

Her Former Lover Is Blamed for Young Bride's Mysterious Disappearance.

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., Oct. 11.—Mrs. Effie Applegate, a young bride, whose husband has been at work in Anderson, Ind., started from the home of her parents last Sunday to visit relatives in the western part of town. She has not been seen since.

MUST ANSWER TO UNCLE SAM

Cabinet Meeting Takes Up Seizure of Mails by Russians.

DETAILS RECEIVED

United States Postal Service Interrupted by the Czar's Army Officers.

BROKE TREATY OBLIGATIONS

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau, Room 10, Postal Building, WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 11.

The Calchas affair was discussed at the cabinet meeting today, and the conclusion reached that Russia has violated her treaty obligations in opening and seizing a portion of the mails on the captured steamer. There was received at the postoffice department this morning a dispatch from the postal agents at Kobe, Yokohama and Nagasaki, giving full details as to the condition in which the mails when finally forwarded were found.

The depredations of the Russian officers have not been known, and from the information that came today it is clear a highhanded outrage was intended and carried out under the misguided notion that mails destined to the government of a belligerent were properly contraband of war.

Postmaster General Wynne decided not to make public the contents of the dispatches from the postal agents in Japan until the state department has had an opportunity to lay the protest of this government before the Russian minister of state. Russia will be asked to explain the affair, and in such a way that the result may form a precedent for the guidance of both Japan and Russia during the rest of the war.

This is not the first protest Russia has had concerning seizures of mail. Germany and Great Britain have both objected to the manner in which the volunteer fleet of Russia opened the mails of steamers on the Red sea. Much mail seized by the Russians was released. Prize courts are still considering many of the questions raised.

A state department official said this evening that a belligerent probably has a right to take mail which is known to be destined for the enemy and to contain information of advantage to the enemy. But the seizure of official mail of a peaceful government is doubtless a violation of treaty obligations.

Postoffice department officials are not satisfied with the manner in which the advices in regard to the condition of the mails have been forwarded to the department. The Calchas mail failed to appear at Yokohama about August 10. By that time the postal agent there should have known that there was something wrong. Other mails were received, and two months have passed before the department is advised that the mails did not arrive as they should, either in point of time or condition.

It was not until the Dodwell dispatch came that the department was advised that there was anything wrong, if the complaint of an anonymous letter from New York a month ago be excepted. This complaint was from a man whose handwriting indicates that he was a German, and the tone of the letter was rather querulous. The writer said he had lost $3,000 by the seizure of the Calchas mail, but as he gave no name or any facts upon which the department could base an investigation the matter was dropped.

LORD MILNER RESIGNS FROM DIFFICULT POST

High Commissionership of South Africa Has Too Many Difficulties.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, Oct. 11.—Lord Milner has resigned the high commissionership of South Africa on account of ill-health, brought about by the prolonged strain in grappling with the situation, which is daily becoming more difficult, owing to the financial and racial troubles of the country.

Lord Milner had twice previously resigned, but was induced to reconsider his determination, which is now irrevocable. Lord Milner comes home at Christmas, and after consultation with him his successor will be appointed.

Col. Sir Edward Ward, permanent under secretary of state for the war office, and formerly director of supplies of the South African field force, is considered likely to get the appointment. Sir Edward has great administrative ability, and is wholly disconnected with the past political or financial history of South Africa.

VA., Oct. 11.—Lulu Shemrick, 14 years old, daughter of a farmer living near Glennova, several miles north of this city, is said to have been abducted tonight by William Johnson, who formerly worked on the Shemrick farm. Johnson is supposed to have taken the girl in a skiff to some point along the river.

VICTIM OF BROKEN PLEDGES

CITY TREASURER E. J. FRAUENHEIM, Who Has Handed in His Resignation.

DIAMOND BROKER SWINDLER'S DUPE

W. S. Pipes Loses $2,600 Worth of Gems Through an Old Game.

NO TRACE OF ACCUSED MAN

W. S. Pipes, a diamond broker of 624 North Euclid avenue, fell a victim to an old swindling game yesterday and lost $2,600 worth of diamonds. In addition to losing his jewels, Pipes was unable to give the detectives any definite information regarding the man who duped him. A man represented himself as "Miller," and that is about all the officers have to work on.

Pipes is a well known jewelry broker. Several days ago a friend of his, whose name the detectives refuse to divulge, told Pipes he had an acquaintance, "Miller," a dry goods salesman, who wanted to invest some money in diamonds. By arrangement Pipes met Miller yesterday in the latter's room at 1028 Fifth avenue. Pipes showed Miller one ring weighing 2¾ karats, one ring 2½ karats, one ring 1¾ karats and two loose diamonds weighing 5 karats each.

Miller examined the stones and expressed himself as being pleased with them. "But I must show them to my wife," he said to Pipes.

Miller left the room with the jewels and Pipes waited. Ten minutes elapsed and Pipes became uneasy. He went about the house in search of Miller. He found the woman who keeps the boarding house and learned from her that Miller had left. The woman informed Pipes she knew nothing of Miller, except that he had engaged the room yesterday morning and paid her in advance.

Pipes hurried to the detective bureau and made his complaint. The man who introduced Pipes to Miller was sent for and he was unable to give any direct information regarding Miller except that he came in his tailor store quite frequently and was from Philadelphia.

Miller left no baggage in his room and the detectives are at a loss to know where to begin to look for him.

MAYOR M'CLELLAN AROUSES PEACE CONGRESS DELEGATES

Says We Pride Ourselves on Advanced Civilization, Yet Admire Japan for Killing Thousands of People.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Delegates to the International Peace congress, who are now visiting this city, today declared war against the views of Mayor McClellan, who addressed them at a luncheon given under the auspices of the New York board of trade and transportation at the Hotel Astor.

"We are in the habit," said the mayor, "of priding ourselves upon our advanced civilization. We glory in the fact that we are much better than our forefathers; yet at the dawn of the new century we stand breathless with admiration for the advance made in civilization by an oriental power, not so much because she has progressed in the arts, in letters and in the humanities, but because she is killing hundreds of thousands of human beings, in accordance with the most modern, the most approved and the most scientific methods."

FOREWARNED OF DEATH.

Bessemer Railroad Brakeman Had a Presentiment of Impending Evil.

BUTLER, PA., Oct. 11.—(Special.)—Telling his fellow trainmen he had a premonition that he was about to be killed, David Roberts, a brakeman on the Pittsburgh, Bessemer & Lake Erie railroad, commenced work yesterday morning.

A few hours later, at Shenango Junction, he fell from the tender of a shifting engine and the wheels passed over him. He was taken to the Mercer hospital, where, after suffering great agony, he died. He was 30 years old, and his home was in the anthracite coal regions.

PARKER'S DEFEAT PROVIDED FOR

Promised Partnership With Hill and Sheehan on Taking Nomination.

BELMONT PAYS BIG SALARY

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau, Herald Building, Herald Square, NEW YORK, Oct. 11.

A few weeks before the St. Louis convention a deal was made between Judge Alton B. Parker, August Belmont, W. F. Sheehan and David B. Hill to provide for Judge Parker, in case of his defeat as the Democratic nominee for the presidency.

Judge Parker, not being a rich man, did not wish to give up his position, as it was most congenial, for the uncertainties of politics, which, also, was distasteful to him. It was therefore arranged that, in case of defeat, there should be a new law firm, with offices in New York city, the firm to be Parker, Hill & Sheehan. Parker individually is to receive a salary of $50,000 a year as the attorney for August Belmont's vast interests, such as the subway, tramway and other corporations.

Thomas Taggart, chairman of the Democratic national committee, when asked if such an understanding had been entered into, answered:

"I do not know anything about that. The judge will be a safe and good lawyer, however, for Mr. Belmont's interests, if he gets him."

August Belmont would not discuss the matter and William F. Sheehan indignantly denied it.

YOUNG LAUDER'S YACHT IS RAMMED BY A TUG

Large Hole Made Through Port Bow, While Anchored in Hampton Roads.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEWPORT NEWS, VA., Oct. 11.—While anchored in Hampton Roads, off the Chamberlain hotel, Old Point Comfort, today, the two-masted schooner yacht Endymion, belonging to George Lauder, Jr., of Pittsburgh, was rammed by the tug Sallie of Norfolk. A large hole was jammed through the port bow of the yatch and she began to take water.

To prevent her from sinking the tug towed her to the mud flats off Old Fort Wool and beached her. Mr. Lauder and C. G. Childs of New York were on board when the accident occurred. As the yacht was at anchor it is believed the blame will be placed upon the tug.

The Endymion probably will be taken to the shipyard here for repairs. Divers made an examination this evening and discovered there is a six-foot hole in her side, two feet above the waterline and four below. The force of the collision threw the captain of the tug through a transom.

FIFTEEN PERSONS HURT IN PENNSYLVANIA WRECK

Express Train Ran Into a Freight in the Bordentown Yards Near Camden, N. J.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11.—A Pennsylvania railroad express train, bound from New York for Camden, N. J., tonight ran into a freight train in the Bordentown railroad yards, 27 miles north of Camden, and about 15 persons were injured, three of them seriously.

Isaac Wurts, engineer, Bradford Steelman, fireman, and James Zane, an engineer who was on the passenger engine to familiarize himself with the road, were caught under the wreckage of the locomotive. Zane was taken to the Trenton hospital and the other two were brought to the Cooper hospital, Camden, along with 10 of the injured passengers.

The freight train was crossing the main line tracks when the passenger train dashed into it.

ARMOUR FIRM UNDERSOLD HIM

Cincinnati Produce Man So Charges Before Interstate Commission.

COERCION ALLEGED

Companies Wring Rebates from Railroads and Force Dealers to Use Cars.

JURISDICTION IS QUESTIONED

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—That Armour & Co. sold pineapples in Cincinnati, disposing of them at competition-throttling prices in order to coerce produce dealers who declined to use their refrigerator cars, was the charge made before the interstate commerce commission at today's session of the "private car monopoly" inquiry by John Leverone, a fruit merchant of Cincinnati.

Mr. Leverone testified that Armour & Co. not only charged fruit shippers arbitrarily high prices for the use of iced cars, but, through arrangements with fruit carrying lines like the Louisville & Nashville, practically compelled consignees to use the Armour cars. Then, having forced dealers to sell at high prices to cover excessive transportation costs, the Armours, according to Mr. Leverone's testimony, often undersold dealers to a degree that debarred them from doing business in any particular line of goods.

That the private car companies extort privileges, variously described as "commissions" or "rebates" from railroad companies, which private shippers cannot obtain, was again reiterated by the testimony of J. A. Donovan, manager of the Missouri River Dispatch, a Nebraska corporation operating 250 refrigerator cars, who testified that his line had a contract with the Erie railroad whereby the Erie paid 12½ per cent on "net rates" as a "commission," in addition to regular mileage of three-fourths of a cent.

Levy Mayer, an attorney representing Street's Western State Car line, precipitated a lively discussion with the commission and its counsel, Mr. Marchand, while Frank J. Reichmann, vice president and general manager of the Street system, was on the stand. Mr. Marchand had asked Mr. Reichmann what portion of the six mills per mile allowance made to his line by the railroads was turned over to shippers. Mr. Mayer objected to the question and advised the witness to refuse to answer it. He argued that Street's line, being merely in the business of building and renting cars to railroads and shippers, was not a common carrier within the meaning of the Elkins act, and that the commission would exceed its jurisprudence if it attempted to pry into the private affairs of the line.

J. S. Leeds, manager of the Santa Fe Dispatch, was one of the principal witnesses.

"Did you ever give shippers rebates?" was asked Mr. Leeds.

"Well, in Northern California we gave the shippers a remittance of $25 on each car," said the witness. "We had to do it to compete with the Armour line."

Edward F. Swift, first vice president of the Swift refrigerator line, was on the stand, but no information could be secured. Other witnesses examined were F. Sulzberger of Schwarzschild & Sulzberger, C. J. Kusle of the refrigerator line of the same company, C. R. Cooper of the Chicago, New York & Boston Refrigerator line, H. G. Northrup of the American Refrigerator Transit Company, John E. McEwen, manager of the Overland Refrigerator Company, and M. W. Johnson, general western agent of the Merchants Dispatch Transportation Company.

The case will go to the federal court next week for adjudication.

CONDEMNED TO DEATH AT FIRST OPPORTUNITY

Wilkesbarre Merchants Warned They Will Be Murdered in Near Future.

WILKESBARRE, PA., Oct. 11.—Two "Black Hand" letters, received by the firm of Nasdone & Petrillo of this city, threaten to shoot each member on sight unless the firm's business in Pittston is stopped at once. The first letter, decorated with a coffin, an open grave and a skull and crossbones, was received last week. It threatened death if the business was not stopped in five days.

The time expired yesterday. Today came another letter, declaring that, as the firm had disobeyed, the partners would now be shot at the first opportunity.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Oct. 11.—(Special.)—Henry E. Willoughby last evening married Miss Ade E. Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Brown of Wampum.

Willoughby was returning home one night in April, 1903, when he discovered three men attempting to rob the Wampum bank. The robbers opened fire on Willoughby, who returned it. He received a shot in the leg and fatally injured one of the robbers, who was found dead the next morning. This adventure led to Willoughby's acquaintance with Miss Brown.

FRAUENHEIM HAS RESIGNED

City Treasurer Quits Because Administration Broke Pledges.

ACTION A SURPRISE

Objected to Placing City's Millions in Favored Ban's at Low Interest.

HE MADE PROTESTS IN VAIN

Treasurer Edward J. Frauenheim threw a bomb into the city administration camp yesterday afternoon by tendering to Mayor Hays his resignation and requesting that his successor be appointed at once. The breaking of its pledges to the people is given by Mr. Frauenheim as his reason for severing his connection with the Citizens party administration.

The principal grievance of Mr. Frauenheim is the failure of the administration to place the city's funds in the banks which offered the highest rate of interest and to secure more than 2 per cent on daily balances. He also indicates he was not satisfied with the manner in which the city authorities attempted to enforce the linear tax law on public service corporations.

The resignation of Mr. Frauenheim came is a total surprise and a distinct shock to Mayor Hays and his fellow administration officials. The mayor said last night he did not have the slightest intimation in advance that Mr. Frauenheim intended to resign, and also said he did not have the least idea whom he would appoint as city treasurer—whether he would be a Republican or a Democrat.

Resignation Was a Surprise.

Mr. Frauenheim late yesterday afternoon wrote his resignation and carried it to Mayor Hays' office. The mayor was not in and he handed it to the mayor's private secretary, Walter R. Black. Later Mr. Frauenheim returned to the mayor's office and Secretary Black told him the mayor had come and gone and had received the letter of resignation.

Mr. Frauenheim gave out a copy of the letter last night, which is as follows:

Pittsburgh, Oct. 11, 1904.

Hon. Wm. B. Hays, Mayor of Pittsburgh.

Dear Sir—I hereby tender my resignation as city treasurer, to take effect upon the appointment of my successor, which I request be made without delay. In severing my connection with your administration I desire to express my appreciation of the many courtesies shown me by yourself and by other city officials. Yours, very truly,

E. J. FRAUENHEIM, City Treasurer.

Mr. Frauenheim prepared the following statement last night and sent it to the newspapers for publication:

Reform Pledges Broken.

"When I accepted the office of treasurer I did so in the belief that as the head of a separate executive department of the city, as provided in the new charter, I would be in a position to aid in carrying into effect the reforms contemplated by the new order of things. After holding the office for a considerable time, I ascertained that I had misapprehended the provisions of the charter, as the to the powers conferred upon the treasurer by that instrument.

"Having no desire to hold a public office with duties only nominal and perfunctory, I determined to resign, but decided to await the collection of the September instalment of taxes, in order to avoid the confusion which would have arisen from a transfer of the office during the taxpaying period. The time having now arrived when the change may be made without detriment to the business of the office, I desire to be relieved of the duties of the place.

"I wish to say that I leave this position with the most pleasant feelings toward the mayor and other city officials. While I have not been always in accord with their policies, my personal relations with all of them have been at all times of the most agreeable character."

Administration Violated Promises.

Mr. Frauenheim was asked to specify what reforms he was disappointed in not being able to carry out as city treasurer.

"The reforms pledged by the Citizens party," he replied.

"What particular reforms?"

"I expected to get more than 2 per cent on daily balances, which the Citizens party promised," was his answer. "The county gets over 3 per cent on its daily balances from the same banks from which Pittsburgh gets only 2 per cent, and Allegheny city also gets over 3 per cent on its daily balances. I also expected to see the money divided among more than four banks, and wanted the funds of the city placed in the banks which would offer the highest rate of interest on all deposits.

"I was in favor of the project to divide the city's money among the national banks of the city which were the highest bidders, and was disappointed that this reform, to which the Citizens party was pledged, was not carried out."

"Were there other reforms which you expected to see accomplished while you were city treasurer?"

He Was Disappointed.

"Yes, there were some others, but I have given you the principal one. I do not care to mention others," said Mr. Frauenheim.

"Did you not request Solicitor Rodgers to take an appeal to the supreme court from the decision of the county court in the linear tax case?"

"Yes, but instead of doing this he filed exceptions to the decision in the county court."

"Was this satisfactory to you?"

"Well, Mr. Rodgers said it was the best he could do."

Mr. Frauenheim says he had never talked with Mayor Hays about his intention to resign, and he hopes the mayor will act promptly and name his successor so that he can step out at once. While he is a Democrat, Mr. Frauenheim said that he did not think the mayor was under obligation to name a Democrat as his successor.

The mayor last night took the same view of the matter.

"There is no reason why I should appoint a Democrat except that I appointed a Democrat before," he said. "I have not the least idea whom I will appoint—whether he will be a Democrat or a Republican. I have not even seen the resignation yet.

Select Council Must Confirm.

"Mr. Frauenheim never intimated to me that he was dissatisfied and never spoke to me about failure to carry out reforms. I have not spoken to any person about his resignation, and I do not know what will be done. Yes, select council will have to confirm whoever I shall appoint as his successor, and I have no idea when that will be."

The mayor appeared in a very dejected frame of mind when he said this. He looked as if he had received a hard blow and did not appear to look forward with relish to a tussle with select council over the confirmation of his appointment. In the present turbulent situation in select council, strenuous times are expected over the mayor's coming appointment.

Mr. Frauenheim has displayed ability and conscientiousness in the discharge of his duties, and when councils, in obedience to the wishes of the administration, was passing the resolution selecting four favored banks as city depositories and requiring these banks to pay only 2 per cent on the city's deposits, he spoke out courageously against such a course, but, regardless of his protests, the resolution went through. Mr. Frauenheim stated, after the adoption of the resolution, that he had no alternative but to obey, and, at the end of the present fiscal year when the present contract expires, to place the city's millions in the four banks thus designated.

Objected to Disagreeable Duty.

Rather than be compelled to perform this disagreeable duty, he decided to resign, and his successor will be compelled to do the work of the administration instead. This will doubtless make an important issue in select council when the new treasurer is to be confirmed.

As the administration cannot dodge a confirmation of the new treasurer, stormy times are ahead in the upper city legislative body. The new treasurer will have only about a year and a half to serve. Mr. Frauenheim was appointed in April, 1903, but did not take the office until a couple of months later, until after the spring collection of taxes had been made and the accounts transferred.

WANT AN APPROPRIATION.

Allegheny River Boatmen's Association to Work Systematically for More Dam Money.

At the seventh annual reunion of the Allegheny River Boatmen's association, held yesterday in Tarentum, each member of the association was requested to write a personal letter to his representative in congress urging him to work for the $650,000 appropriation for the completion of dam No. 2 at Aspinwall, and the construction of No. 4 dam.

The opening session was called to order by President A. G. Mahaffey of Tarentum, and 50 members responded to roll call. A committee was appointed, including representatives from each of the towns between Allegheny and Warren, to look after the interests of the association.

In the afternoon an address of welcome was delivered by the Rev. T. C. Anderson, pastor of the United Presbyterian church of Tarentum. In behalf of the boatmen the Rev. John Henderson of Hoboken responded. The question of establishing funeral benefits was laid over until next year's meeting. Officers were elected as follows: President, A. G. Mahaffey, Tarentum; first vice president, E. G. Fry, Ford City; second vice president, Joseph Hobaugh, Springdale; secretary, Joseph Simons, Hoboken; treasurer, S. F. Campbell, Clinton. An intended excursion to No. 3 dam was abandoned on account of low water. It was decided to hold the next reunion at Ford City.

HAD MUSIC AND ADDRESSES.

Bank Clerks of Pittsburgh Hold Well-Attended Meeting With Many Features.

A program of addresses and musical features entertained about 150 members of the Pittsburgh chapter of the American Institute of Bank Clerks at the second meeting of the season, held last evening at German Beneficial hall, Sixth avenue.

"Canadian Bank Clerks" was the subject of a paper by Alan Morphy of the Second National bank, and Robert L. Wickline of the Peoples National bank discussed "The Official Correspondence and Its Relation to the Bank."

Among those taking part in the musical program of the evening were Frank R. Flood, John H. Tawney, D. H. Thomas, A. J. Cisney, R. F. Morris, Jr., C. A. Heckman, H. E. Gordon, R. R. Hamilton and Joseph T. Horner.

It is announced that a course of lectures on political economy, by Henry Temple, M. A., D. D., of Washington and Jefferson college, will start with the first meeting of the chapter in November, and continue monthly throughout the year.

HAD LIVELY DISCUSSION.

The Steam Turbine Provokes Some Invidous Comparisons Before the Engineers' Society.

"The Steam Turbine," which was the subject of a paper before the Engineers' society last evening, prepared by R. N. Earhart of the Westinghouse Machine Company, evoked a lively discussion. The cause of the discussion was the presence of Edward S. Lee of the De Laval steam turbine interests, who spoke repeatedly to the society and was mixed up in several disputes with the Westinghouse men present.

Mr. Earhart, the author of the paper, was compelled to be absent from the meeting on account of business duties in St. Louis, and the paper was read by Mr. Arnold of the Westinghouse Company.

The interest felt in the comparatively new form of steam engine by the engineers of this district was shown throughout the meeting, and the disputes over certain technical points of superiority grew acute at times.

AMERICUS CLUB WILL ACT AS ESCORT IN NEW YORK PARADE

The Americus Republican club of Pittsburgh will act as an escort to the speakers who will address the greatest political rally ever held in the city of New York. The meeting will be held in Madison Square garden on the night of October 19, and will be addressed by Senator Charles W. Fairbanks, candidate for vice president, Secretary of the Treasury Shaw, Ex-Secretary of War Root and George Knight of California.

The invitation to act as an escort to the speaker was received yesterday by S. J. Wainwright, Jr., president of the club. It was sent by Senator N. B. Scott, chairman of the speakers' bureau of the National Republican committee. The West Virginia senator knows the handsome appearance made by the Pittsburghers, and he was particularly anxious to have the invitation accepted. This was done at once and it is expected that there will be at least 200 members in line. Notices containing the full arrangements for the trip will be sent to the club men.

WOULD LOSE OUR PLANTS UNDER DEMOCRATIC POLICY

Secretary Shaw Says Under Free Trade Manufacturers Would Seek Cheap Labor.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

OGDENSBURG, N. Y., Oct. 11.—Leslie M. Shaw, secretary of the treasury, opened the Republican campaign tonight. Mr. Shaw said in part:

"Political campaigns ought never to degenerate into more squabbles for office. No one is free from prejudice and possibly those most consoled with fancied freedom from this subtle weakness, are most enslaved. The two political parties differ in economic views; one advocates free trade, or tariff for revenue only; the other advocates protection; they are in absolute antagonism. The Democratic convention declared that the Democratic party never was a free trade party, and is not now. It is, however, in the same sense and degree that England is a free trade country. We levied tariff on tea during the Spanish war for the purpose of revenue only, repealing it when that revenue was no longer needed. We place tariff on all manufactured articles, not for raising revenues, but for protection. Follow Democratic advice, remove the protective tariff, and our factories will be on European soil, where labor is 25 to 50 per cent cheaper."

CLAYSVILLE BANK CLOSED.

Failure of an Iron Company Said to Have Affected the Institution.

WASHINGTON, PA., Oct. 11.—(Special.)—The First National bank of Claysville closed its doors this morning. The closing was due to a run yesterday, following the assignment Saturday of N. B. Borkman of Claysville, a director. The presentation of paper, not known to exist, is also said to have had some effect in closing the bank's doors.

The institution is the oldest in Claysville, having been organized 15 years ago. The report of the bank, made to the comptroller of the currency September 6, showed a surplus of $16,000, undivided profits of $2,740, deposits or $160,000 and loans and discounts of $190,000. All the directors, with the exception of J. P. Miller, live in Claysville. The recent assignment of the South Pittsburgh iron works of Claysville, is said to have affected the bank. H. N. Miller of Washington, who was cashier of the bank and manager of the South Pittsburgh iron works, recently resigned his position in the bank. It is said that the bank will be able to meet its liabilities.

HUNGARIAN TOURING TRIO WILL BE HERE TODAY

Orley Bela, Arthur Meyer and Eugene Eosze of Budapest, Hungary, who are touring the world on foot on a $25,000 wager, were in Homestead yesterday visiting the mills. The men started in 1903. The trip came about through an argument as to how long it would take a man to travel on foot around the globe. They contended that it could be done in five years and a wager was laid. The three men will visit St. Louis and from there go southward through South America, sailing for Australia and then to Asia. They are earning their way as they go. They will be in Pittsburgh today.

TORPEDO BOATS ARE WRECKED ON RAILROAD

D., Oct. 11.—Two knocked-down torpedo boats en route over the Great Northern to Seattle, have been wrecked near Towner through the breaking of the forward journal on the truck containing part of one of the boats. It is thought the truck was tampered with at Rugby. It is known the Russian and Japanese governments have had spies in this country with a view of watching suspicious shipments to the orient.

ARRESTED THE CHAUFFEUR AT POINT OF REVOLVER

R. M. Williams, Driver for W. L. Mellon, Alleged to Have Run Down Aged Man in Oakland.

Policeman Arthur Ehrenfeld placed R. M. Williams, chauffeur for W. L. Mellon, the banker, under arrest yesterday at the point of a revolver, and compelled him to drive Mr. Mellon's auto to the Forbes street station house. Williams and J. H. Daley, an employe of the Standard Automobile Company, who was in the car, were held on charges of disorderly conduct.

The officer was in plain clothes and encountered Williams and Daley in the auto at Forbes street and Craft avenue. The officer stepped off a street car and says he saw an aged man knocked down by the machine. Williams started away without paying any attention to the man he struck. The officer took after the auto car and climbed on the rear step, calling to Williams and Daley to stop. The men paid no attention to the officer, and the latter crawled in the car and took hold of Daley. Williams picked up a wrench and struck at the officer. This angered the policeman, and he put his revolver against Williams' neck and ordered him to drive to the station house.

The officer was unable to learn the name of the man who was knocked down, but it is not supposed he was seriously injured. At the station house, it is alleged, Williams and Daley became abusive to the officers, and the turnkeys were compelled to use force to place them in cells. Later in the afternoon forfeits were given for their release for a hearing this morning.

H. C. PAYNE'S ESTATE IS VALUED AT $750,000

Postmaster General's Will Is Probated and the Property Is Bequeathed to His Family.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 11.—The will of the late Postmaster General Henry C. Payne was filed for probate today. The estate, estimated at $750,000, is left in trust to Frank G. Bigelow and George P. Miller of Milwaukee as executors. In addition to household goods, horses, carriages, etc., an annuity of $7,500 is provided for Mrs. Lydia W. Payne, widow of the testator, during the settlement of the estate.

Other annuities for a like period are provided as follows: To his sister, Mrs. Imogene P. Cameron, of Jamestown, N. Y., $1,000; to his wife's, Miss Margaret Jones of Milwaukee, $350, and to Miss Diana S. Brown of North Adams, Mass., $800. Upon the settlement of the estate $5,000 is bequeathed to Miss Louise Jones of Milwaukee and $5,000 to Winfield Henry Cameron of Milwaukee. The principal provision of the document reads as follows:

"At the expiration of three years from the settlement of my estate, I direct my said trustees and their survivors or their successors in trust, to convey and assign to my said wife, should she be living, 50 per cent of said estate then in their hands, or, in case of her death, to such persons as may be entitled to the same under her will."

MAY HAVE FATAL ENDING.

Two School Children of Homestead Quarreled and the Death of One is Expected.

Joseph Suiko, aged 7 years, a pupil of the Homestead schools, according to the opinions of physicians at the South Side hospital, will die from injuries received from a blow in the face, said to have been struck by George Campbell, aged 11, during a quarrel between the two lads at the First ward school, on September 29.

The parents of the injured boy have made information against Campbell before Justice J. Clyde Miller and he was placed under arrest yesterday.

At first young Suiko's injury was regarded as trivial, but in a few days complications developed and the boy's face began to swell until his eyes were closed. He was sent to the South Side hospital but he grew constantly worse and yesterday the physicians announced there was little hope for his recovery.

YANACK FLED TO PITTSBURGH.

Deputy Sheriff and Uncle of Child He Is Accused of Attacking Are Coming Here.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—(Special.)—George Yanack of Whiting, Ind., the supposed assailant of the 5-year-old daughter of his former friend, Frank Javork, fled to Pittsburgh today. Deputy Sheriff Mueller and George Javork, an uncle of the girl, left for that city to search for Yanack in the Austrian settlements.

It is believed he attacked the girl for revenge, as a result of rivalry between the father and Yanack for the affections of the mother. The little girl was cruelly beaten.

Compromise on a Grade.

At a meeting of the committee on surveys of Allegheny councils last night an ordinance fixing the construction of the sidewalks in McClure avenue, under the tracks of the Ft. Wayne railroad bridge, at 21 inches above the level of the roadway, was ordered printed. This is a compromise measure and the intention is that it shall take the place of the ordinance now in councils fixing the sidewalks at the high grade, which is 6 feet above the level of the roadway.

ALLEGED IMPORTATION OF BELGIAN GLASS MEN

Orders Issued to Hold Up and Examine Expected Arrivals on Suspicion of Contract.

Orders have been issued to all ports of entry on the Atlantic coast to hold up for examination 300 Belgian window glass workers who, it is alleged, are being brought to this country under contract.

This order is the result of some active work by President W. S. Phillips of the Amalgamated Association of Window Glass Workers. A telegram to Mr. Phillips from Charleroi, Belgium, a few days ago, informed him the Belgian workers had sailed. He came to Pittsburgh from Cleveland and went over the matter carefully with Robert D. Layton, immigrant inspector here. Mr. Layton took the case up with the department of commerce and labor at Washington. A letter yesterday from Frank D. Sargent of that department contained the information that the order to hold up suspected arrivals had been issued.

Mr. Phillips is greatly pleased with the quick action obtained. While he says it may not be true that the laborers are under contract, as alleged, and are, therefore, coming in violation of the immigration laws of the United States, he considers the source of his information reliable. A searching investigation is to be made.

SAY RUSSIAN ARMY WILL BE ANNIHILATED

Returning War Correspondents Say Kuropatkin's Force Is No Match for the Japanese.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

VICTORIA, B. C., Oct. 11.—By the steamer Empress of Japan there arrived today from Japan Mr. and Mrs. Richard Harding Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Palmer, E. F. Knight of London and George Lynch, also of London. Mr. Knight and Frederick Palmer were with Gen. Kuroki's army in the Liao-Yang campaign and speak highly of the treatment they received from the Japanese staff.

Both Knight and Palmer say that if Kuropatkin persists in his southward movements they believe he will have his armies cut to pieces. The two correspondents say the Russian force at present in Manchuria is no match for the Japanese.

NO CHANGE IN WHARF RENTS.

Public Works Committee of Allegheny Councils Refuses to Reduce Rate.

The public works committee of Allegheny councils last night recommended negatively the ordinance authorizing the lease of improved Allegheny wharfs at $1.75 per front foot. The present charges are $2.50 per front foot.

As the sub-committee on streets and sewers has not reported for more than a year, owing to inability to get a quorum, it was agreed that one member of the committee should hereafter constitute a quorum.

NOT MUCH HOME COMFORT FOR POOR JOHN SEBOVITZ

John Sebovitz, a Slav laborer at the Homestead steel works, had his foot crushed by a steel plate yesterday. When he was taken to his home in Harding street by a coal and iron policeman, Sebovitz's wife refused to permit him to enter the house, as she said she didn't want to be bothered attending him. The officer was obliged to send the man to a hospital.

WANT NO SKYSCRAPERS IN THE IMPERIAL CITY

Prussian Ministers Refuse to Permit Their Erection in Berlin.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

BERLIN, Oct. 11.—The Prussian ministers of public works, the interior and commerce, have just rejected a petition for the erection of skyscrapers in Prussian cities. The Central Association of German Manufacturers had asked for a modification of the building regulations in the interest of the iron industry and because of the difficulty experienced in some cities in supplying sufficient dwellings to accommodate the growing population.

The petitioners pointed out that the present limitation of the height of buildings in Berlin to 74 feet is unnecessary, in view of modern methods of steel construction.

The ministers answered that the danger of fire had not been removed through steel frames, citing recent cases in the United States, where people on high upper stories could not be rescued when fire broke out in the lower stories, and showin that it was impossible to get water so high to extinguish the flames. Furthermore, the ministers said, the removal of the present restrictions would inaugurate wild real estate speculation.

BIG BATTLESHIP LAUNCHED.

The Georgia Slides Down the Ways in the Presence of Distinguished Guests.

BATH, ME., Oct. 11.—The launching from the Bath iron works of the largest vessel ever built in the state of Maine, the twin-screw, first-class battleship Georgia, took place today. Miss Stella Tate, daughter of the late Maj. William Tate, and a sister of Congressman F. Carter Tate, christened the vessel. The weather was cloudy, but conditions generally were favorable for a successful launching.

The big battleship was gaily decorated with flags and bunting, as were also the office and yard buildings in honor of the occasion. Excursionists from all sections of Maine had come to witness the launching, and the party entertained by the officials of the company included Gov. Joseph M. Terrell of Georgia, Mrs. Terrell, Judge and Mrs. Hamilton McWhorter, Miss Camelia McWhorter, Congressman F. Carter Tate, Mrs. Tate, Miss Stella Tate and Congressman W. C. Adamson, all of Georgia.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—(Special.)—The government gunboat Paducah was launched this morning from the Morris Heights shipyard in the presence of about 600 guests. The instant she began to move, Miss Anna Yeiser, daughter of the mayor of Paducah, Ky., smashed a bottle of champagne on the prow.

The Paducah is an exact counterpart of the Dubuque, which was launched several weeks ago, and will cost when completed $650,000.

DISMISSED INJUNCTION AGAINST TOBACCO MERGER

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 11.—Vice Chancellor Pitney this afternoon dismissed the temporary injunction and abruptly terminated the hearing in the tobacco merger case. He said he dismissed the temporary injunction against the merger on a technicality. The rule to show cause, however, would be continued until the case can be heard by the court of errors and appeals.

Mr. Sankey's Resignation Accepted.

The board of directors of the South Side hospital met last night, and the resignation of W. E. Sankey, a director, presented at the previous meeting, was accepted.

LIQUOR-CRAZED NEGRO SHOOTS UP M'KEESPORT

Wanted to Kill His Wife and Holds Up Two Men—In Danger from an Angry Mob.

William Brown, a young negro, crazed with drink and flourishing a revolver yesterday afternoon, went to Virginia Bullet's house in Brick alley, McKeesport, and demanded that his wife be produced, so he could shoot her. He discovered the woman in a rear room and fired two shots, neither taking effect. He then fled, shooting as he ran at Robert Weir, J. Weil, and others.

In the street Brown met Thomas Gantz, a young man, and demanded money. With the gun pointed at Gantz's head, Brown went through the man's clothes and took 75 cents. Next he met John Wagner and held him up.

"Give me your money," he yelled, and emphasized his demand by brandishing his gun.

Wagner told Brown he had no money and grappled with him. A struggle ensued, in which Wagner got the gun and Brown escaped.

Detectives Samuel O'Hara and Jacob Schleisinger and Constable Samuel Means traced the negro to where he was in hiding and arrested him. The shots and yells had attracted hundreds of men, women and children, and by the time the patrol wagon arrived the prisoner was menaced by 500 persons. For more than an hour after he had been placed in Central police station the crowd lingered about the jail, angrily discussing the case.

Information against Brown was made after the shooting by Ida Wright before Alderman P. L. Coursin on a charge of pointing firearms. In connection with the case J. Weil entered an information against Virginia Bullet, charging her with keeping a disorderly house. Brown will have a hearing before Mayor Faikenstein this morning.

Director Bigelow Says Ten Feet of Cecil Place Belongs to Traction Company.

ESTIMATES WIDENING COST

Director Bigelow made known yesterday that while it is proposed to widen Cecil alley from 20 to 50 feet, the alley is already 30 feet wide and that 10 feet of the thoroughfare, which is in constant use, is owned by the Pittsburgh Railways Company, one of the tracks in the alley being on the property of the traction company. In widening the alley it is proposed to take these 10 feet and also 20 additional feet on the east side.

"I do not believe the widening of the alley would be of much benefit to the traction company," said Mr. Bigelow, "and I do not believe it would be willing to donate its property free to the city for the privilege of having a double track in a 50-foot street rather than in a 20-foot alley. It holds a franchise for a double track in the alley and this cannot be taken away from it.

"I will see Judge Reed in a few days and will find out what concession the traction company will make. About the only benefit the company would derive from the widening would be to make the curve of its tracks from Penn avenue into the alley longer, and thus save the wear and tear on the cars caused by short curves.

The director was asked for an estimate of the cost of the widening of the alley. He replied:

"That depends upon the value of the property to be taken. There is a double frontage of 30 feet in Penn avenue and Liberty avenue belonging to the traction company. Now if we put a value of $3,000 a front foot on this property, this will make a total of $180,000. Now suppose the traction company gives the city the double frontage of 10 feet now in the alley which it owns. This will reduce the cost to $120,000. Suppose, then, the viewers assess the traction company $20,000 benefits, leaving the net cost at $100,000 to other property owners.

"If T. C. Jenkins & Co. agree to give $40,000 for benefits, as I expect, and W. B. Horner of the Methodist Book concern will give $40,000 more, Joseph Horne & Co. $15,000 and Henry Phipps $15,000, we would have $110,000, or more than enough to pay the traction company's damages. I expect to have the improvement made without a dollar of expense to the city. It is the opinion of the city solicitor that the adjacent property, as well as abutting property, can be assessed benefits.

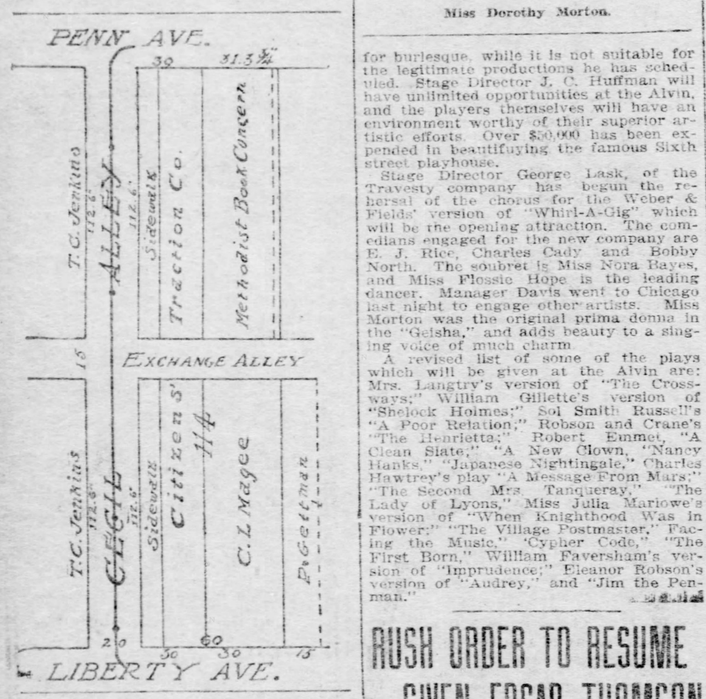
"The Diamond National bank, across Liberty avenue from Cecil alley, wants to assist financially in the widening of the alley, and I believe there are others. I have drawn up an agreement to which I expect to get the signatures of property owners who will agree to pay benefits not to exceed $40,000. Of course, the exact amounts of benefits and damages will be assessed by the viewers in the regular manner, as provided for by the ordinance introduced in councils Monday."

The franchise for Cecil alley, or Cecil place, as it is properly known, was originally given to the Citizens Passenger Railway Company in 1859. The franchise was then limited to a single track in the alley, but in 1896 a new ordinance was passed by councils granting the company the right to lay a double track. This was done to permit the company to change from the cable to the electric system and to build its poles and overhead wires in the alley. Previously the cable cars were run from Penn to Liberty avenue through a barn which stood on the eastern side of the alley.

In examining the ordinance yesterday under which the original grant was given a compensation clause was discovered in the ordinance and a further investigation by the city clerk revealed the fact that it has never been repealed.

In addition to the tax on each car that runs over the road the ordinance provides that the company shall "pay into the city treasury, for the use of the city, on the third Monday of January and of July in each year, for the first five years after cars commence running upon said road, 3 per cent of the net profits of said company, and thence thereafter upon the same days in each year 5 per cent upon the net profits of said company."

It appears that this compensation has never been collected.



DAVIS STOCK COMPANY GOES TO ALVIN THEATER

New Travesty Organization With Dorothy Morton as Prima Donna at the Avenue.

The Harry Davis stock company will be transferred to the Alvin thetaer on November 7, and on the same date the Musical Travesty Company will open at the Avenue theater. Manager Davis made this announcement yesterday, confirming a forecast of the theatrical situation in Pittsburgh made in The Gazette six weeks ago. Miss Dorothy Morton, the well-known light opera prima donna, has been chosen as head of the new travesty organization.

Manager Davis says his conclusions in making the change were largely due to the success which has been attained by his Avenue stock company, and his determination to make bigger dramatic productions that had originally been intended. The stage at the Avenue is larger than that of Weber & Fields in New York and, he says, will be ample for burlesque, while it is not suitable for the legitimate productions he has scheduled. Stage Director J. C. Huffman will have unlimited opportunities at the Alvin, and the players themselves will have an environment worthy of their superior artistic efforts. Over $50,000 has been expended in beautifuying the famous Sixth street playhouse.

Stage Director George Lask, of the Travesty company has begun the rehersal of the chorus for the Weber & Fields' version of "Whirl-A-Gig" which will be the opening attraction. The comedians engaged for the new company are E. J. Rice, Charles Cady and Bobby North. The soubret is Miss Nora Hayes, and Miss Flossie Hope is the leading dancer. Manager Davis went to Chicago last night to engage other artists. Miss Morton was the original prima donna in the "Geisha," and adds beauty to a singing voice of much charm.

A revised list of some of the plays which will be given at the Alvin are: Mrs. Langtry's version of "The Crossways;" William Gillette's version of "Shelock Holmes;" Sol Smith Russell's "A Poor Relation;" Robson and Crane's "The Henrietta;" Robert Emmet, "A Clean Slate;" "A New Clown, "Nancy Hanks," "Japanese Nightingale," Charles Hawtrey's play "A Message From Mars;" "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray," "The Lady of Lyons," Miss Julia Marlowe's version of "When Knighthood Was in Flower;" "The Village Postmaster," "Facing the Music," "Cypher Code," "The First Born," William Faversham's version of "Imprudence;" Eleanor Robson's version of "Audrey," and "Jim the Penman."

RUSH ORDER TO RESUME GIVEN EDGAR THOMSON

Gloom of a Few Days Ago Gives Way to Gladness and Pleased Surprise.

Following the gloom cast over workmen and marchants in Braddock last Saturday, when it was announced that the Edgar Thomson mills of the Carnegie Steel Company would work single turn for an indefinite period, an announcement was made yesterday, when the steel company ordered all their employes to report for duty again, last evening, that caused much happiness. The mills have once more been put on double turn, and it is understood that rush orders are on the slates.

The mill worked single turn Monday and yesterday, and as it was stated there was a slackness of orders, when the order to resume in full was made yesterday it came as a surprise, as the men expected a long period of short time.

It was stated at the mill yesterday that a large number of orders for steel rails, which were held up for several weeks, were given out yesterday morning. The orders, it is said, are sufficient to keep the mills on double turn for several months.

SECOND ATTEMPTS WERE SUCCESSFUL

Two Men Committed Suicide by Hanging After Trying to Die Before.

DUQUESNE MAN BEHEADED

The suicide of an aged man last evening in the McKeesport lockup ended a remarkable series of coincidences. The suicide, Eugene Loraine, was a widower, aged 60, and with two sons lived at New England, near Port Vue. On March 5 last, Loraine went to the barracks of the Volunteers of America, in Fifth avenue, McKeesport, and commenced disrobing. He was arrested and locked in the McKeesport police station. About one hour later the desk sergeant heard a noise in Loraine's cell and found the man hanging by his handkerchief from the upper berth. He was cut down and revived, and after serving his sentence was released.

Yesterday afternoon Loraine walked down Fifth avenue, and stopping at the barracks again commenced going through the same performance as in March. He was stripping his clothes off when captured. The police making the arrest did not know of the other case. They took him to the lockup and again he was placed in cell No. 3, charged with the same offense. At 6 o'clock last evening the desk sergeant again discovered Loraine hanging from the upper berth in the cell by his handkerchief. The man was cut down and laid on the cell floor, and a doctor was summoned, but before the doctor arrived Loraine was dead of strangulation.

Gustave Rudat, aged 45, a painter of 16 Brownsville road, committed suicide early yesterday morning by hanging himself in a shed at the rear of his home. He was despondent because of ill health. Rudat fastened a rope to a rafter and standing on a box adjusted the noose. Kicking the box from under, he strangled to death. He attempted to end his life several years ago by shooting himself in the head.

George S. Ellis, aged 46 and married, a stock keeper at the Duquesne Steel works, was killed in the works yesterday. He had just stepped out of his office on his way home to dinner when a yard engine knocked him down and cut off his head. He lived at 822 Duquesne avenue, Duquesne borough.

The body of Adolph Haas, who ended his life last Saturday by shooting himself in the head at 549 Second avenue, will be buried by his former friends in the Second ward. A number of his acquaintances presented themselves at Alderman McMaster's office and contributed sums of from $2 to $5 to defray the burial expenses. These donations exceeded $100 and the funeral will take place from the chapel at the morgue at noon today.

The coroner was notified yesterday of the death of Anton Trebiskiski, aged 25, a miner, who was injured Monday in the mines of the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Company at Nicola.

CARNEGIE ROUND TABLE HELD INTERESTING MEETING

The Carnegie Round Table of Braddock, composed of 180 men from Braddock and neighboring towns, met last evening in the Carnegie library hall. The round table was organized a year ago. The meeting last evening opened with a banquet. President Lamb made the opening address and and was followed by Thomas Addenboro of Wilkinsburg, chairman of the entertainment committee. Prof. E. E. Loucks, principal of the North Braddock High school, delivered an address on the "Russo-Japanese War" and Attorney George Weil of Braddock spoke on "The World's Outlook."

Caught With the Goods In Him.

Roy Stevinson was sent to jail last night on a charge of burglary, preferred by P. T. B. Shaffer, a druggist of Elizabeth. It is alleged Stevinson and two other men got into Shaffer's store early yesterday morning and stole a lot of cigars and liquor. The latter made them drunk and Stevinson was unable to get away when a constable went in search of the thieves.

Midnight Riot at Homestead.

Homestead was the scene of a riot at 11:30 o'clock last night which required seven policemen to quell. The disturbance took place in City Farm lane and was among foreigners from Braddock, who, after becoming drunk, began to fight. Bricks and fence palings were freely used.

SLAUGHTER, SURE ENOUGH.

The way the people have of crowding into the store of The Liberty Clothing Co. the past few days would lead you to think it was the only clothing house in town.

75c—a Great Glove Proposition.

Kid Gloves for Women, Kid Gloves for Young Ladies, Kid Gloves for Boys—All the Gloves Worth Much More Than 75c.

In the last three or four weeks we have had a number of special sales of kid gloves. Today, with one exception, noted below, we take what remains of the various collections and ask you to choose at 75c a pair.

The gloves are good in every way; they would be excellent value at their regular prices, and for an inexpensive kid glove they overreach anything we ever offered before at a similar underprice.

At 75c a pair—excellent value for $1.00—a late shipment of young ladies' two-clasp Glace Gloves, having daintily embroidered backs. These come in gray, tan, brown, English red and mode.

At 75c a pair—the value being $1.00—Boys' Kid Gloves, pique sewn, whipped back, one-clasp. They are cape gloves from the well-known London maker, Fownes. Choice is in oak tan, English tan and English red.

At 75c a pair—selling regularly for $1.65 and $1.75 Women's French Suede Gloves in various colors, including white and black. These are what remain of special sale that we had some time ago, and for which we charged 85c a pair. They are what the French manufacturer calls imperfect. But his notion of imperfection is based on very narrow lines. The keenest eyesight could not detect a blemish. There are two styles, three-button and three-clasp.

A Glimpse of New Pictures.

Picture lovers may be divided into two classes—those who admire the old masters only, and those who seek and appreciate beauty in modern art. Our showing of pictures today appeals to this latter class.

In the collection are exquisite original water colors, delicately harmonious in tint and without a suggestion of that crudity so often associated with water colors. Choice examples of the Dutch and Italian schools, and by such well-known artists as Van Vreeland, Mazini, Verdet and others.

There are choice proof Etchings—among others the latest works of Dendy Sadler—all entirely new subjects.

Attention is called to the handsomest collection of Photogravures it was ever our pleasure to present to the people of Pittsburg. The subjects are as interesting as they are varied—they are brilliant in tone, yet in perfect taste—all artistically retouched by hand. These Photogravures are all rather large, and framed suitably in gilt, cost from $20.00 to $25.00 each.

The new Sporting Prints in poster style cannot fail to elicit admiration, and there is also an attractive lot of Carbon Photographs.

All these pictures are unframed, so that the purchaser may exercise his own taste ad libitum in the framing—and our charges for this work will be found very low.

Taking Orders for Holiday Handkerchiefs.

We are ready to take orders now for Handkerchiefs embroidered according to any given directions—initials, monograms or autographs worked on the finest linen Handkerchiefs.

We have this work done in this country because it is done better than abroad, but it takes some time to execute it. All orders booked during the next week or so will be gotten out promptly in time for Christmas. Samples to show how fine the embroidery is worked out.

The following will aptly illustrate how close we figure prices and how much variety we offer in our Handkerchief Department:

9c each for Women's Sheer Linen Handkerchiefs—quarter-inch hem—neat embroidered initial under small embroidered spray, worth 15c each.

12½c each for Women's Unlaundered Handkerchiefs, of sheer fine linen, beautiful embroidered wreath in one corner with initial in center of wreath, worth 25c each.

12½c each for Women's Fine Sheer Linen Handkerchiefs—quarter-inch hem—embroidered fleur de lis in one corner—dainty script initial in the fleur de lis. This also is a regular 25c grade.

25c each for Women's French Barred Handkerchiefs—solid white and very fine—the entire field of handkerchief barred—quarter-inch hem, taped border—hand embroidered initial in one corner.

25c each for Women's Unlaundered Sheer Linen Handkerchiefs—quarter-inch hem, fine hemstitched, small French hand embroidered initial in corner. A regular 50c handkerchief.

25c each for what is known commercially as thistle lawn Handkerchiefs, quarter-inch hem, border formed of six woven cords, solid white and very dainty. Worth all of 50c.

Paris Model Suits at Reduced Prices.

Special Notice to Women—

Our Dressmaking Department, third floor, West, will put on sale today a limited number of model dresses which we personally selected in Paris and brought over for the purpose of having replicas made in our Dressmaking Department. They are very fine garments, in afternoon and reception styles.

We desire to give notice that we are ready to accept orders for automobile costumes, coats and riding habits, and offer the services of expert cutters and expert fitters. Latest models from Paris.

Genuine Cloisonne Vases, 90c Each.

From far off Japan, and expressive of Japanese art in contour, no less than in color schemes and design.

Flower and animal subjects picked out in the finest of wire and enameled and burned again and again, in fact, genuine Cloisonne.

The regular price for this size, 5 inches, is $1.50—today's special price averaging almost half.

While in the Bric-a-Brac Department, Third Floor, East, today, it might be well to look over the Electroliers at less than half prices. Still a number of handsome ones left.

New Importation of Imitation Shell Goods.

We never had a finer collection of imitation shell combs and hairpins. Indeed, it would take a pretty good judge of shell to distinguish between these and the genuine tortoise. There are Back Combs, Side Combs and Fancy Hairpins of all descriptions. Shown in tortoise shell color and a beautiful translucent shade of amber.

The combs are distinctly new—they are headed with a border of sphere-shaped knobs closely run together, some all the same size, others graduating from the center, and are very effective when seen against the hair.

Neck Combs, 25c, 50c, 75c and $1.00 each.

Side Combs, 25c and up to $1.25 pair.

Hair Pins, 5c and up to 25c each.

SPECIAL—Heavy Back Combs with large Beaded-Border Top, 25c each. Shown in a fine tortoise shell tint.

While on the subject of Combs, we think it not inappropriate to call attention to our line of real hair pompadours. We have these at 50c each and up to $1.25. Much better goods than usually sold for the money.

Wednesday, October 12, 1904.

New York city is experiencing another crusade against the adulteration and substitution by druggists, who are particularly tempted to sell inferior preparations for phenacetine and other "coal tar" products because of their expensiveness and the great demand for them. When an inferior chemical can be passed off on the customer at less than one-fourth the price of the genuine article, the public demand and considerations of profit for the druggists are factors in favor of substitution. The customer, however, not only fails to get what he orders, but is exposed to serious risks. This is one of the most dangerous phases of the adulteration problem which cannot be dealt with save through vigorous exertion of public authority and strict enforcement of law.

Republicans have every reason to be satisfied with the determination of the Democrats to keep W. J. Bryan on the stump, for his efforts will hardly produce more than negative results on account of his half-hearted indorsement of Parker. When his attention is called to the lukewarm support he is giving the ticket he simply protests that the public has no right to doubt his sincerity. In the meantime he is everywhere announcing that when this election is over he will attempt to reorganize the Democratic party according to his ideas of Democracy, for Parker is simply a makeshift—a choice between evils. The statement that he had conceded Nebraska, which he was able to carry in 1896, to the Republicans has been denied by Chairman Taggart, but not by Mr. Bryan himself. Democrats who are troubled by his apologetic indorsement of their ticket should consider how much worse Bryan's silence might be than his oratory. For eight years he has been the principal talker in the party. He controlled its policy in two national conventions and had more influence in shaping the platform of the third than any one man. If a former candidate with such a record had been muzzled there could not be much hope of securing the support of his former followers. But his appearance on the platform can hardly add to the inconsistency and incongruity of the Democratic campaign.

Director Bigelow explains that the work of track-laying upon Grant boulevard is done under plans approved by him. He says that he insisted that the company should keep within a strip of 19 feet on the inside of the roadway, alongside of the hill, leaving about 20 feet of clear driveway in the boulevard next to the retaining wall. He also makes the important announcement that "it will be left to the street car company to provide that the side which it occupies with its tracks is kept free from obstructions." These provisions are very satisfactory, and Mr. Bigelow is to be commended for making them, but we should like to know what legal assurance is there that the company will keep clear its right of way and not subject the city to that burden. An amendment to the franchise grant providing that the company should assume just that responsibility was voted down, and so far as the stipulations then made are concerned the city was to provide the right of way without charge assuming all expenses for the upkeep. Unless Director Bigelow has obtained a contract from the company that in consideration of his approval of the plans they will take care of the right of way and assume the cost of removing obstructions we fear that expectations based upon his assurance will turn out to have been mistaken.

The Filipino independence movement started in Manila under the provocation of Democratic party agitation of the subject has been a failure. The meeting called was a fiasco and the native press ridicules the movement as premature and as not being in the hands of persons who represent the Filipino people. At the very time the meeting was being held 20 influential Filipinos, who formerly took part in the insurgent movement, were organizing an agricultural bank with a capital of $200,000. As the Filipino leaders become interested in such enterprises they will appreciate the value of American sovereignty as a business asset. The Philippines as an independent nation would have such a short life and one so full of trouble that there could be no reasonable assurance of protection for investments of any kind. The people do not form a nation, but are a jumble of diverse nationalities among whom peace can be secured only by the power of a sovereignty resting upon them all in common and strong enough to keep order. Instead of taking away political rights American sovereignty gives the Filipinos their political rights and protects them in the enjoyment of those rights. It would be as unjust to deprive the islands of that guarantee as it would be to deprive any other state or territory of the United States of the constitutional guarantee of a republican form of government.

Closely following the announcement from Wisconsin that the "stalwarts" would probably withdraw the ticket set up in opposition to Gov. LaFollette come reports of compromise in Delaware, where the Union or Addicks faction and the regular Republicans have been trying to agree. They have united on a compromise candidate for governor in Preston Lea of Wilmington, who has been a regular Republican, on condition that he appoint an Addicks man for secretary of state, but Dr. Chandler, the regular nominee, refuses to withdraw. If the parties to the agreement can control a large per cent of their followers, Dr. Chandler can hardly expect much support. There is nearly a month to intervene before election and it is possible to do considerable in that time for the sake of harmony in both Delaware and Wisconsin. In both states there have been enough concessions already made to warrant the hope that serious danger to the national ticket is removed.

Frauenheim Stands With Larkin.

Controller Larkin's answer to the petition of Mayor Hays for a writ of mandamus to compel the immediate advertisement of $5,000,000 filtration bonds is a vigorous and, in some respects, a startling document. The controller charges irregularity in the passage of the ordinance and corrupt practices in procuring its passage. He avers his ability to prove these allegations and he should have the opportunity to make this offer good. The public is aware of the fact that votes for the ordinance were procured just as needed, but while that fact might tend to create suspicion, it in itself is not proof of corruption. If there has been corruption the proof should be brought forward.

Aside from these sensational allegations the controller advances excellent reasons why the bonds should not be issued as commanded by the finance committee. As for the authority of the finance committee to assume the functions of councils at the direction of councils, that is a purely legal point to be decided by the courts. The points made by the controller that the proposed interest rate is higher than necessary and that the method directed for disposing of the bonds does not recognize the rights of the sinking fund are matters of common sense in which the controller has all the best of the argument. Whether these points constitute a legal barrier to the issue of the bonds as directed is again a matter for the court to decide, and we may not anticipate that decision. It is proper to say, however, that Controller Larkin has made a good case in the court of public opinion on the fact that the bond ordinances have not been drawn to secure the best interests of the city.

Controller Larkin's arraignment of the conduct of the municipal administration is intensified by the action of City Treasurer Frauenheim, who has handed in his resignation of that office as a protest against the same sort of proceedings which the controller is contesting. He will no longer be a party to a political conspiracy which compels him to deposit the city funds at 2 per cent interest on the daily balances when the county receives over 3 per cent and the city of Allegheny as much, and when he could do quite as well for the city of Pittsburgh if allowed to manage the business properly. The politicians now in power are a hardened set, but the exposure which their system of loot is receiving will be apt to cause even them some disturbance of mind.

The Business Aspect of the Case.

At the session of the New York city board of estimates upon Monday last Comptroller Grout made some remarks which have equal pertinence here. The trustees of the Brooklyn public library system asked for an increase of $143,465 in the annual appropriation. It was explained that over $53,000 of this increase would be needed to stock with books several of the Carnegie libraries which will be ready for opening in the coming year.

"Why not buy books for these libraries out of the Carnegie fund," asked Comptroller Grout.

It was explained to him that Mr. Carnegie had agreed simply to erect the buildings. Whereupon Mr. Grout made these remarks:

I have always understood that a library was a collection of books. In this case it seems to mean simply a building. The city has to furnish the site, provide the books and maintain the institution. It looks as though the city were doing the larger part of the work and Mr. Carnegie the lesser. As the case stands I think it would be more appropriate to call these institutions city libraries than Carnegie libraries. If the Carnegie scheme were to be brought before this board now I should hesitate to vote for it.

This emphasizes a distinction that is too frequently overlooked. When Mr. Carnegie's munificence in this particular is stated in business terms it means that he offers a handsome bonus as an inducement to the public to establish and maintain libraries and name them after him. Mr. Carnegie's business astuteness is as marked in his philanthropy as in his commercial transactions.

A Singularly Placid Situation.

Less than a month to election day and yet not the least sign of excitement! The quietest campaign in our history, say the party canvassers on both sides. The opposition is straining every nerve to din into the ears of the people that the despot's heel is on their necks, and the people plainly show by their listless manner that such talk does not interest them.

This is plain to everybody, but the difficulty of the opposition is that it has nothing else to give. The only issue upon which the Democratic party is united is personal antagonism to Roosevelt. When an orator starts out to discuss any other issue he is liable to get in a hard back-hand blow at some party interest. Congressman Williams gave an awful jar to the New York party organization in his speech at the opening of the campaign there by describing how Roosevelt could easily smash all trusts and holding companies by getting congress to pass laws excluding them from interstate commerce. The keynote of the Democratic campaign there is that Roosevelt is too much of a trust smasher as it is and that the aggrieved interests should welcome the calm repose offered to them in Judge Parker's assurance that statutory control is not necessary anyhow, since "the common law as developed affords a complete legal remedy against monopolies." When such bad breaks are liable to occur, no wonder that Bourke Cockran is muzzled and that the candidate takes daily trips to New York to see that conflicting views among the party managers themselves do not get them into angry snarls. The only thing upon which they can pull together is in abusing Roosevelt and so the Democratic campaign has degenerated into a mere personal onslaught.

As regards the national election, there are distinct signs that the party leaders recognize the fact that it is all over so far as Parker's chances are concerned. The main thing with them now is to be in a position to say "Thou canst not say I did it." Mr. Bryan has discontinued even his campaign of education as to what the issues ought to be. He now gives the leading position and the chief space in his paper to an account of "the Wonders of the West," as noted by him in his vacation trips. Chairman Thomas Taggart's coadjutors are careful to let it be known that he is still the chairman and that what they are doing is merely to help him out and in no way derogates from his authority or from the credit due him for his conduct of the campaign. As for Mr. Taggart himself, nothing can alter the fact that he has been chairman of the Democratic party. He fought hard for that honor and now no one shows any desire to share it with him.

The Republican national committee has stopped sending out literature except in answer to individual requests. The committee has thoroughly done all the work it can do in submitting the party record to the people. From now on its efforts will be devoted to providing prominent speakers for where they are needed. With the settlement of faction feuds in Delaware and Wisconsin, the only state left where a real battle is going on with some doubt as to the issue is New York, and there the trouble is in the state campaign, the state ticket being under a heavy fire some effect of which might be felt by the national ticket. The Democratic managers are concentrating their artillery upon this point. Former President Cleveland has been prevailed upon to enter the fray, and he will make at least one speech. The betting men size up the situation by giving odds of 10 to 4 on Roosevelt and 10 to 7 on the Republican candidate for governor.

The only really doubtful feature of the campaign is the result as regards the Republican majority in congress. Roosevelt is so much stronger than his party that the strength of popular support of him does not afford a reliable indication of the situation as regards congressional candidates. It is, however, the rule that the party which wins in the electoral vote returns a majority to congress. It is probable that Roosevelt will receive the largest popular majority ever given to an American president, but it does not follow that the congressional majority will be correspondingly large, although it will be decisive.

Cecil Alley Widening.

An ordinance was introduced in common council Monday evening for the widening of Cecil alley from 20 to 50 feet. While there can be no objection in general to projects for increasing the room for traffic downtown, this one appears to be largely for the benefit of the traction interests. The proposition is to take the traction property on the east side of the alley to create a street. The history of that strip is well known to the people of Pittsburgh and is intimately connected with the progress of traction rapacity. When the cable system was installed in 1888, the fact was recognized that Cecil alley would be practically confiscated if occupied by even a single track. The cable company therefore bought a strip of property on the east side of the alley and occupied it with tracks and offices. But with the progress of the political influences that have given the public property away to the corporations Cecil alley was seized, not for one track, but for two. As is well known, it is now practically useless to the public. It is so completely covered with railway tracks and cars that vehicles shun it and pedestrians can hardly squeeze through.

It is in this condition of things that the proposal is advanced to take the traction company's strip of idle property for street purposes. The congestion caused by the tracks of the company is made the excuse for enlarging the thoroughfare. If this project was accompanied by a proffer of the traction company's land as a gift to the city for the use of the public it would be popular. Coming as it does, however, in the guise of a scheme to make a market, at the public expense, for a piece of property owned by the traction monopoly, it will not appeal to the public as a proper plan. The very least the Pittsburgh Railways Company can decently do is to give that property to the city. It might go farther. It might improve the street as an indication that it appreciates the many favors it has received from the Pittsburgh public without making any return—even a return of good service.

We may expect, however, that this measure will have the hearty support of the powers that have been so active in taking the boulevard for private use and in giving the streets to those who never offer any public compensation. They can be relied upon to lobby for the alleged public improvement plus the marketing of the traction company's property at an excessive price. There is some reason to hope, in this case, that councils will offer opposition. The defeat of the attempt to repeal the ordinance for the widening of Second avenue, on the plea that the city is not justified in paying so much for a general public benefit, affords an example of councilmanic independence in such matters that is encouraging. That case, too, will afford a precedent in the consideration of a proposition to pay for the traction property in Cecil alley probably more than the amount assessed against the city for the property needed to widen Second avenue. The two in conjunction illustrates most graphically the tendencies of the political influences now dominant in this city. The constant watchword appears to be to mulct the public for as much as possible while the opportunity endures.

Another transfer of money from the Point bridge fund is asked, in face of the fact that the engineers declare the fund now insufficient to complete the work. The ways of the public works administration are past finding out.

Possibly the sudden start on Grant boulevard was intended to head off the chamber of commerce opposition. The chamber had the right idea about a street car line there.

With the Russians taking the aggressive there should be some very hard fighting in Manchuria.

Russia is as sure of final victory as it was in the beginning, according to its own statements.

Talked of in Gotham

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—There has been found in New York at least one man who thinks salaries—including his own—are too high. That man is President Fornes of the board of aldermen. He draws $5,000 a year from the treasury. The discussion arose over the request of President Littleton of Brooklyn for an increase in the remuneration of his secretary. "I call him secretary," remarked President Littleton, "but he is actually an expert accountant. He prepared this estimate."

"It is my opinion," replied President Fornes, "that the men in the city's employ are receiving a bigger compensation than they would were they employed in a private business."

"I take it, then," retorted the Brooklyn president, "you are receiving more as president of the board of aldermen than you would in private business, or, in other words, that the city is over-paying you?"

"I certainly do," conceded Mr. Fornes with earnestness. Then, coloring slightly, he added: "That is, I am being paid more than I could get from private business under present conditions."

Mr. Littleton reiterated his belief the city paid very inadequate salaries. "Just enough to corrupt a weak man and humiliate a strong man," he added. President Littleton then made the suggestion that Mr. Fornes' salary be reduced to $2,500 and the president of the board of aldermen interposed no objection, but no action was taken.

Is It Hot Enough for You?

The average New Yorker felt at noon today as if October, which opened with a new record for cold weather, was about to establish a chapter in the opposite direction in the local weather bureau statistics. The mercury got up to 77 degrees at 1 o'clock, but the presence of considerable humidity in the atmosphere made October feel like mid-August.

Flipped a Coin for Liberty.

To a Brooklyn jury which had acquitted a prisoner indicted for grand larceny Judge Aspinall of the county court yesterday administered a severe rebuke. Samuel Kauffman, the young man who was given his liberty, was arrested at the same time as Michael Linken, who was indicted for a similar offense. According to Judge Aspinall, the two talked the case over while in jail and decided that it would best make opportunity for one to escape punishment if the other pleaded guilty. They, therefore, tossed a coin. Linken lost, pleaded guilty according to agreement, and was sent to Elmira.

Great Place for the Fakir.

Before the Society of Medical Jurisprudence, at the first regular meeting of the fall, a paper on "Medical Quacks, Their Methods and Dangers," was read by C. S. Andrews, who for five years has been counsel for the society. In that time, he said, 500 convictions of medical charlatans have been procured, a total of $90,000 in fines collected and an aggregate of 20 years in prison imposed on offenders. Mr. Andrews said New York was the hotbed of medical charlatanism, and that the poorer and more thickly settled sections of the city were filled with illegal practitioners.

Enough to Make Him Mad.

Excitement prevailed for a while this afternoon in the Pennsylvania railway station, Jersey City, when a small terrier of the wirehaired variety escaped from his crate and caused the cry of "Mad dog!" to be set up. The dog was knocked down, with his crate, from the top of a pile of express boxes. He was very hungry and made a loud noise, and people began to scamper in every direction. Several ineffectual attempts were made to catch him and to allay the excitement. Policeman Johnson finally came up and despatched the dog. Traffic was tied up a while on the trolley lines, of which there is a terminal nearby.

Quick Rush of Relief Wagon.

"Baldy," the favorite ambulance horse of the J. Hood Wright hospital, covered himself with glory today by going three miles in 11 minutes. A laborer on a new building at Thirty-eighth street and Tenth avenue fell through a shaft. The ambulance was called and made a quick trip. The doctor decided an operation would be necessary and, placing the injured man in the ambulance, ordered a fast drive to the hospital. Just 11 minutes after "Baldy" left the hospital he was back again with the accident victim.

Nips of New York News.

Since Judge Parker refuses to talk an attempt will be made to hold a "handshaking" meeting in Madison square. He may even object to this.

The death of 20 persons from drinking bad whisky is a pretty good temperance lecture, but its influence is not likely to be very widespread.

The new "Kundry," Miss Olive Fremstadt, arrived today on the Kronprinz Wilhelm.

Julius P. Meyer of the Hamburg-American line returned today from Europe after an absence of 11 days. That is what may be called "a hurried business trip."

The Insane as Nurses.

The suggestion of a physician at the Norristown asylum that trained nursing is a good occupation for many of the insane may strike most people as a ghastly bit of humor. To intrust a full-blown lunatic with the care of a sick person is an idea calculated to stiffen the hair. There are intelligent men and women who would rather be dropped like Daniel into a den of hungry lions than to be at the mercy of an insane nurse. Yet there is not the least doubt that the superintendent of an asylum could select many inmates who would be trustworthy and efficient as nurses of the sick—vastly better, indeed, than are some nurses who have been trained to care more for their own comfort than that of the patient. The popular conception of the insane needs to be reconstructed.—Philadelphia Record.

Food Adulteration.

The food congress in St. Louis is satisfied that foreign coloring matter in food products should be prohibited by law. Very probably much of the coloring matter is innocuous, but as much of it is just the reverse, it will be well to circumscribe the esthetic for the benefit of the properly alimentary. Our foods cannot be too closely guarded, too carefully shielded from deterioration by poisonous ingredients.—Cleveland Leader.

The Quiet Observer.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

While making a good deal of fuss over our city schools we must not forget the country school, for it has sent us a majority of our more successful men and will ever continue to send a large share, if not a majority of those who become the solid men of the city.

It is a fact, although it may not be generally known, that the country districts furnish the best material out of which to make good business men.

Country boys and girls may not be as refined, as stylish nor as well educated as their city cousins, but they have gumption, than which there is nothing better for a foundation upon which to build a good and useful character.

Besides, country bred youths have the physical constitution essential to success. As a rule they are hearty, strong and sturdy, and not much used to defeat or failure. Their lives are of the strenuous type, so that when difficulties arise in after life they are not afraid to tackle them and fight them to a finish.

Pluck and perseverance are the distinguishing characteristics of the typical country boy and girl.

* * * * *

It is rather doubtful whether the little red schoolhouse is receiving the close attention and careful consideration that its importance demands.

Just because it is a country schoolhouse no one seems to be concerned about its care or whether it is cared for at all. For this reason it is usually about the shabbiest and most forlorn-looking house and grounds in the township.

This ought not to be when it would be so easy to beautify the grounds around it and to keep the house looking clean and cozy. Almost every schoolhouse has plenty of room around it for shrubbery and flowers which, under the direction of a capable landscape gardener, could be made a part of the education of the children, and a most useful part.

It would not be necessary to have a gardener for each school. One for a county would suffice, for there would be no difficulty in finding those in each district who would undertake to look after the house and grounds. Indeed, this is the duty of the directors. The pupils and their parents and their friends would cheerfully undertake to do all the necessary work under the direction of a competent landscape gardener.

* * * * *

You can readily see how this would spread to the houses, and how soon there would be beautiful lawns and yards where now there are but weed patches. With the district school grounds as a model, coupled with suggestions and advice from the county superintendent, every farmhouse and grounds would become more attractive, as well as more valuable.

While this feature alone should recommend such a scheme, the educational feature would be of still greater value.

It is not book knowledge alone that the times demand, but culture of a practical kind.

Refinement has come to be as essential in business as capital, almost, because the people with whom it is worth while to do business are cultured more or less, which leads them to patronize those who are most agreeable in address and manner.

In order that it may be effective culture must be of the individual a part, and not merely something attached like a bouquet or button. Culture is an expression of taste, of social qualities, of heart sympathies.

It is, therefore, not only important but essential to cultivate correct tastes in children, so that their feelings will be correct, and as they feel so they are.

* * * * *

The country schoolhouse ought to be reclaimed from the weeds and desolation and bleakness that surround it. It should be made the center of a model garden, which can readily be done at very little cost.

But even if the cost should be considerable the investment would still be gilt-edged and pay better in the long run than any other that can be made for the advancement of the country school.

That which strikes the tourist most forcibly is the condition of the houses and schools in the country districts. In some they have a run-down-at-the-heel look about them that does not speak well for the people. But here and there they find nicely kept homes, which means that they are occupied by nicely reared, well cultured, refined people. Than this nothing more can be said.

Some railroad companies employ landscape gardeners to look after the grounds around their stations. While this has not been long in vogue, it has had a marked influence on the neighborhood around about. Homes have been beautified after the manner of the stations, and this has begotten a friendly rivalry among neighbors to see who can have the finest grounds.

As this costs nothing more than a little labor and a dollar or two for seeds and plants, it is a capital investment.

* * * * *

Another thing that has been suggested through this column more than once is school history. Every school, whether in city or country, should have its history written by the scholars, and finally compiled and edited so as to constitute a full and detailed history of the district.

A practical and highly successful superintendent down east recently sent a circular letter to all teachers in the county, from which we take the following, as it contains the gist of the whole matter:

"I want you to get the boys and girls of your school interested in the subject "My School—Past, Present and Future." I want you to begin the work today. Make use of this subject as a subject for composition. The children will be glad to ask their parents and neighbors about the history of the school; when it was built, remarkable meetings of various kinds which have been held in it, boys and girls who have studied under its roof and who have become men and women of prominence. When the children have collected all of the material which they find on this subject, when they have written their compositions, then ask them to read their productions in the class recitation. Decide which one is best and ask the writer to commit to memory this production and to represent the school in a township historical entertainment which will be held in a town or central schoolhouse in your township, and to which every rural school of your township will send a representative. Each teacher will be held responsible for the representation of his school. The work must begin today in order that the township historical entertainments may be held when desired."

Event Might Be Overlooked.

As the custom prevails with nearly every paper published in this county, we also take this opportunity to apprise our friends of the fact that autumn is here.—Sharon Eagle.

Marriage Customs

From the London Lady.

When the betrothal of children was the custom, as it was among our Anglo-Saxon forefathers, the bridegroom-elect gave to his future bride a ring, or, as it was called in those days, a "wed," as his pledge. It is from this term that our word wedding has been derived. The ring was placed on a finger of the right hand of the little maiden and was kept there until her marriage, when it was removed to her left hand. In days gone by the bridegroom did not, as now, at the time of marrying place the ring at once on the third finger of the bride, but put it in turn on each finger of the left hand, saying as he placed it on the first finger: "In the name of the Father;" on the second, "In the name of the Son;" on the third, "In the name of the Holy Ghost," and on the fourth, "Amen."

The bride being attended by bridesmaids is a custom that has come down to us, like so many others, from the Romans. At their marriages it was the custom to have them celebrated in the presence of 10 witnesses, and at the conclusion of the ceremony the contracting parties partook of a cake made of salt, water and flour—a practice from which, no doubt, our "wedding cake" has come, while the wedding favors—which, by the by, seem to have gone quite out of fashion now—were supposed to represent the true-lovers' knot, symbolical of union.

Another custom that has fortunately gone out of fashion is throwing a shoe or shoes after the newly wedded pair as they leave the home of the bride and start together on their life's journey. This custom had its origin from one of ancient usage, the bride's father presenting his new son-in-law with one of his daughter's shoes as a token of the transfer of authority, and the bridegroom as he received it touching his bride with it on the head—to show that the authority of the parent had been transferred to him as the husband.

The throwing of rice after the bridal pair, which took the place of the old shoes, is said by some authorities to be a relic of the "panis farreus" of the Romans, while another and more probable theory is that it was thrown as being symbolical of plenty. Whichever it is, the custom was soon abandoned, and in its place is thrown confetti—viz., small wafers of various colors.

The words of our marriage service are but very slightly altered from those in use by our ancestors. In olden days a bride was taken "for fairer for fouler, for better for worse," and she promised to be both "buxom and bonny" to her future lord and master.

In America the forms and ceremonies connected with a wedding vary in the way it is carried out in one or two little matters from ours. Thus, with us the bride precedes her bridesmaids, while with them the bridesmaids walk first, and the bride follows them. It is no unusual thing in America to have a rehearsal of the wedding ceremony beforehand. The wedding party—that is, those who are to take part in the ceremony itself—meets at the bride's house, and all go together to the church where the ceremony is to take place, the only absentee being the officiating clergyman, who, we imagine, is supposed to be so well up in his duties that it is unnecessary for him to take part in the rehearsal.

The custom of having ushers at a wedding has traveled to this country and been in a great measure adopted by us, and very useful these gentlemen prove themselves in the matter of showing the guests to their seats on their arrival at the church, for the correct thing is that the friends and relatives of the bride should occupy the pews on the right-hand side of the altar, while those of the bridegroom seat themselves on the left side. An American bridegroom presents, we believe, each of the ushers, as well as his best man, with a souvenir of the happy occasion, just as in this country the bridegroom presents each of the bridesmaids with a gift, in addition to the bouquet it is his privilege to give them as well as to his bride. The hours at which marriages could be solemnized have varied from time to time. At one period they were held in the evening, then again the legal hours were those of the morning before noon, but of late years a law has been passed for extending the hours, and a marriage now can be solemnized at any time between 8 in the morning and 3 o'clock in the afternoon, though of course it is still possible to obtain by payment a special license, which allows a marriage to take place at any hour during the 24 and in any place.

MODEST PHILANTHROPIST.

Tuberculosis Sanitarium Founded by Man Who Conceals His Identity.

We learn from the Oil City Derrick that a sanitarium for consumption has been established near Oil City through the generosity of a resident of that city who does not desire to have his name known to the public. Two young physicians are the active promoters of the charity, in charge of its administration. They became familiar with the work of Dr. Flick in Philadelphia, while attending medical college there, and practiced in his hospital, which was endowed by Henry Phipps of this city.

The modest philanthropist who is backing the Oil City tuberculosis sanitarium has purchased a farm of 90 acres three miles out of the city on the Plumer road and authorized Drs. McCarthy and Kirschner to fit up the buildings at his expense. He also gives a substantial sum toward the maintenance of the institution. The Derrick praises highly the generosity of the man who thus benefits humanity by creating the first consumptives' resort west of the Alleghenies, but it gives no other clue to his identity than to say he is a resident of Oil City, who has made his fortune in oil.

Earnings and Accidents.

Every year in recent reckoning except 1897 has witnessed an increase in the total number of lives sacrificed by American railroads. In spite of improvements in coupling and in road-bed which have greatly lessened certain classes of accidents, the total rises steadily. It now approaches 25 every day of the entire year. * * * There is a general impression which will require strong evidence to dislodge that this growing slaughter of passengers is due in part to the desire of railway companies which were over-capitalized in the reckless financial debauch of 1900-1 to make a "show of earnings" by cutting operating expenses beyond the limit of safety.—New York World.

Success Following Failures.

And in fact we believe that nowhere is the man who has failed, without impeachment of his integrity, more sure of encouragement and assistance than here; nowhere is there a more general and more active willingness to lend a helping hand to one who is down and is struggling to get on his feet again. Certainly in no country is a single failure so seldom accepted as final, and in none are there so many instances of successes following failures.—New York Times.

TEACHERS PUT IN THEIR SCHEDULE

Central Board of Education Is Informed of What Increase in Salary Is Wanted.

MAY BE FEWER PRINCIPALS

The question of whether or not the teachers of Pittsburgh schools are to have higher salaries is now before the Central board of education. The schedule prepared by the Pittsburgh Teachers' association was submitted to the board and a committee of prominent citizens was present to argue in behalf of the increase.

The Teachers' association was represented by a large committee, marshaled by Miss Clarissa A. Moffitt, president of the Teachers' association, and Miss Marion V. Neeper, chairman of the committee on schedule. To support them was a delegation of citizens composed of J. Smiley Wightman, president of select council; former Mayor W. J. Diehl, Maj. A. P. Burchfield, Dr. W. J. Holland, D. P. Black, Col. Edward Jay Allen, Col. W. C. Connelly, Jr., Benjamin Thaw and Martin Prenter.

The following is the schedule for the annual salary in the first seven grades for eight years:

First year's service, $600; second, $650; third, $700; fourth, $750; fifth, $800; Sixth, $850; Seventh, $900; Eighth, $950.

The salary for nine years and more will be $1,000 a year. The wages in the High school class follows:

First year's service, $1,000; second, $1,050; third, $1,100; fourth, $1,150; fifth, $1,200; sixth, $1,300.

Maximum Salaries Fixed.

Under the head of "for proficiency and skill," the maximum salary in grammar grades for teachers who have taught 14 years is $1,250, and for first-year work, where the instructor has seen 12 years' service, the salary is $1,100. After a teacher has been receiving a salary of $7,000 for two years the increase is to be at the rate of $50 per annum. No teacher shall receive a salary of $1,000 or over who has not rendered eight years' service. The following is also made a part of the schedule:

The Grading of Teachers.

All special teachers shall be graded the same as grammar grades. Teachers promoted from grammar grades to high school work shall be promoted at same salary. Grammar grades are grades in which sixth and seventh year work is taught. First year work shall consist in the teaching of children who have never received instruction in any school. Kindergartens not taken into account. Proficiency in a teacher is to consist in the power to impart knowledge, the ability to discipline well, in the culture of the teacher, and in the progressiveness of the teacher.

Miss Moffitt, Miss Neeper, Col. Allen, ex-Mayor Diehl, Dr. Holland, Maj. Burchfield, D. P. Black and Mr. Thaw made strong speeches in behalf of the increase. They all gave it as their opinion that the taxpayers of the city would not object to the increase. It was pointed out that the extra pay would not necessitate more than an additional half mill of tax. Those members of the board who are opposed to the increase say that the payment of living wages to the teachers will necessitate the levying of an extra mill.

Teachers to Have a Hearing.

The schedule was referred to the committee on teachers and salaries. It will grant a hearing to the representatives who appeared before the board last night. The schedule agreed upon by the committee will come before the board at the December meeting.

Before the teachers were heard several communications relating to salaries were presented and referred to the committee on teachers and salaries. They included indorsements of the higher pay movement from the Central Turnverein and the civic committee of Women's clubs. A statement was put in showing the present rate by the year, month, week, day and hour. By the hour the rates run from 81 cents to $1.40. Another statement showed the pay of the teachers for last month. It showed that 10 teachers received $40 for the month's work; 33 received $45; 73 received $50; 64 received $55; 63 received $60; 59 received $65; 53 received $70; 522 received $75; 28 received $90; 36 received $100; 15 received $120; 11 received $130, and 9 received $140.

Allotment of Principals.

Dr. H. L. Reinecke presented a resolution which, if adopted, will make a radical change in school supervision. It provides that in the allotment of principals instead of allowing a principal to each sub-district a principal, or the equivalent, be allowed to a given number of pupils, with 2,000 suggested as the number. The resolution was referred to the committee on teachers and salaries. At present each sub-district has a principal, and if the Reinecke plan is adopted fully half of them will lose that teacher, for sub-districts having 2,000 pupils are not common. Some of them are away down in the hundreds and one has but 150.

The plan of the high school committee to finish the top of the Fifth avenue building and add six rooms at a cost of $18,000, was approved. The work must be done in three months.

DROPPED LAMP AND WAS BURNED ALMOST TO DEATH

Penn Avenue Woman Saved from Cremation by Husband and Daughter Who Also Sustain Injuries.

By allowing a lamp to slip from her grasp, causing the oil to drench her and become ignited, Mrs. Dorothy Washiefski, aged 58, of Penn avenue and Fourteenth street, was so badly burned last night that her recovery is doubtful. Her husband and daughter, who rushed to her rescue, were also painfully, but not seriously, burned.

The family occupy the upper floor of a three-story building and had retired for the night. Shortly after 10 o'clock Mrs. Washiefski arose to secure a lamp from an adjoining room. It slipped from her hand and in an instant she was sheeted in blazing oil. Her cries brought her husband and daughter, who finally extinguished the flames, but not before being burned about the arms and hands.

Mrs. Washiefski, who was horribly burned about the body, was removed to St. Francis hospital. The damage to the building was slight.

NOVEL IDEA IN PSALM SINGING

Piano, Cornet, Pipe Organ and Methodist Enthusiasm in Rendering David's Old Songs.

OPENS CONVENTION TODAY

Musical Pittsburgh has scored another victory and the climax is about to be reached in evangelistic singing. The psalms that David composed are no longer to be the sole property of the United Presbyterian church, because David's simple harp has been superseded by half the instruments of modern instrument makers. Tonight will usher in this wonderful renaissance in sacred music. It will take place at the Sixth United Presbyterian church, at the opening of the 40th annual convention of the State Sabbath School association.

Imagine these same psalms that David used to sing with his harp, done in up-to-date style with a chorus of 600 enthusiastic voices, to the accompaniment of the grand organ, the piano and the cornet, and led with the spirit and grace of Sousa by Benjamin Franklin Butts! If David can take cognizance of things that occur back on this sphere, it will be just such a scene that will greet his vision tonight.

The final rehearsal for the big psalmodic concert, was held in the Sixth church last night. In deference to the United Presbyterians, it was decided that the psalms should be the only tunes sung at the praise service. In singing, however, it was the desire of the delegates to make some improvement on the spirit of the ordinary psalm singing. Drowsy and lugubrious melodies were not wanted. There is something of the evangelistic element in a Sabbath school convention, and the leader wanted a praise service that would stir the souls of men.

Of course, everybody expected the Methodists to do a big share of the singing, but when it was announced that the music would be confined to psalms there was consternation among those who had anticipated pitching up their voices in "O, Happy Day," and "Greenland's Icy Mountain." No Methodist tunes would be tolerated, but there was to be no objection to Methodist singers. The solution to this perplexing problem was reached by Prof. Butts.

"We'll make the Methodists sing the Psalms," he said.

Last night proved the success of his idea. Half the members of his big chorus had never tried psalms before, but when they sang the old tunes with the spirit of a bush meeting congregation, the enthusiasm was happy to see.

John Wanamaker, who will deliver the principal address at the convention, will arrive in the city today. About 1,000 delegates are expected. Among the distinguished visitors will be Charles G. Trumbull, editor of the Sunday School Times. A reception to visiting delegates will be held in the Sixth church at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon. The song service will be held at 7:30 and will continue 30 minutes. The Rev. Dr. William Patterson of Philadelphia and Mr. Wanamaker will speak and the Rev. Dr. R. M. Russell, pastor of the Sixth church, will make the closing address.

Last night an exhibit of religious publications was opened in the East Liberty Presbyterian church and an art exhibit, including some Wanamaker paintings, will be displayed in the Emory Methodist Episcopal church.

OLD PLAN TO PURCHASE MAGEE SITE IS REVIVED

Central Board of Education Authorizes a Committee to Secure Option on Property.

Another effort is to be made to purchase the Magee site for a new high school building. The Central board of education last night authorized the appointment of a committee of seven to secure an option on an available property. It is understood that ex-Judge Magee is still willing to dispose of his property for $300,000, and that a majority of the board is satisfied to pay that price.

The matter was brought up last night by the introduction of this resolution by S. C. Jamison:

Whereas, The crowded condition of the several high school buildings proves that the buildings are wholly inadequate to accommodate the pupils and demands action on our part to provide additional room for pupils desirous of attending the high schools.

Whereas, This board has by vote determined that the Friendship avenue site is not a proper one on which to erect a new building.

Resolved, That the chair shall appoint a special committee of seven, whose duty it shall be to secure an option on a proper site on which to erect a new central high school building. This committee shall report as speedily as practicable its selection to the board for approval, in order that sufficient and proper school facilities may be provided as soon as possible.

George W. Gosser of the Sixteenth ward, wanted to insert an amendment which would still keep the Friendship site in the class of available property. He failed to accomplish his purpose. In behalf of the amendment, Mr. Grosser said:

This board should halt and listen. There is danger ahead. It is running riot. We have been buying sites and not using them. The public says that we have gone into the real estate business. The Friendship property is available in every way, and why should we spend $300,000 for a new site?

There was one dissenting vote in the adoption of the resolution. President Gillespie named as members of the committee the following: S. C. Jamison, Charles Bradley, F. E. Klein, John H. McIlroy, Robert McMillan, J. F. O'Toole and J. E. Roth. McIlroy, McMillan and Roth are said to consider the price asked for the Magee site exorbitant. Those favoring a new high school claim to have 24 of the 39 votes in the board.

A POLLUTED CITY RESERVOIR

Makes Prudent People Think of Means to Protect Their Health.

"PERUNA, BY CREATING HEALTHY MUCOUS MEMBRANES, IS A GREAT PRECAUTION AGAINST ACQUIRING DISEASES FROM IMPURE DRINKING WATER."—Dr. S. B. Hartman.

City reservoirs furnish the water for the vast multitude of people who constitute the population of our numerous cities.

These reservoirs are liable to be contaminated. Contamination is almost unavoidable.

If the people who drink city water could know what happens to the water they are drinking, they would be more careful.

Many cities furnish water absolutely unfit for drinking.

The dangerous qualities can be removed by boiling the drinking water.

AN OUNCE OF PREVENTION IS WORTH A POUND OF CURE.

In some cases this is very inconvenient and puts a great burden upon the people. Yet it ought to be done for self-protection.

But, in spite of all precautions, people are, especially during the fall months, exposed to the dangers of impure drinking water.

Wherever the exposure is unavoidable, the system can be protected in some degree by healthy mucous membranes.

A mucous membrane free from catarrh is not so liable to absorb disease germs as an unhealthy mucous membrane.

Indeed it may be doubted whether a perfectly healthy mucous membrane is subject to contaminations of this sort.

At least this much is certain, a mucous membrane perfectly free from catarrh is not so liable to become infected as a mucous membrane that is deranged by catarrhal congestion.

The logic of this is that during the month of October everyone should take the precaution of cleansing and healing the mucous membrane by the use of Peruna.

KEEP THE MUCOUS MEMBRANES HEALTHY.

A teaspoonful or two of Peruna taken every day during the fall months, when the drinking water is at its worst, is a great precaution against acquiring diseases from impure drinking water.

A few doses of Peruna put the mucous membranes right and guard the system against impurities.

If the cities cannot protect the inhabitants from impure drinking water, the inhabitants must protect themselves by keeping the mucous membranes clean and healthy, and entirely free from catarrh. This can only be successfully accomplished by the intelligent use of Peruna.

PE-RU-NA PROVIDES PROTECTION.

Should you desire special instructions regarding the use of Peruna, write to Dr. S. B. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio, and he will give you the benefit of his valuable advice gratis.

Miss Minnie Coop, 150 Hasting St., St. Louis, Mo., writes:

"I cannot speak too highly of the merits of Peruna. I was troubled for four years with a malarial condition of the system, making me susceptible to colds and afflictions resulting therefrom.

"My digestion was very poor, my breath bad and my sleep poor. I had used several remedies, but nothing helped me until I tried Peruna.

"A great change took place and I knew within a week that I had at last found the panacea for my troubles. I used it for nearly two months and felt satisfied with the results. At the end of that time I was strong and well and it has kept me in perfect health ever since. If I feel badly at any time, I just take a couple of doses and find that it soon restores me."—Minnie Coop.

FARMERS ABLE TO INVEST MILLIONS

Result of Eight Years of Republican Policy Says Senator Fairbanks.

BIG MEETINGS HELD IN IOWA

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

MARSHALLTOWN, IA., Oct. 11.—Senator Fairbanks made here tonight the last of a series of 10 speeches, delivered since leaving Omaha early this morning. The day was one of the most successful of the western tour, both in point of attendance and in point of interest. While there was no lack of either at any of the meetings, Waterloo supplied the largest attendance and there, also, was the highest pitch of enthusiasm attained. The most interesting event of the day occurred at Fort Dodge, where Senator Fairbanks spoke from the rear platform of the car Edgemore. Observing the aged father of Senator Dolliver seated in a carriage in the rear of the crowd, Senator Fairbanks made his way through the dense crowd and greeted him heartily. At Iowa Falls Senator Fairbanks dwelt upon the prosperity of the farmers. He said:

"An eminent Democratic authority some time ago, in the hope of winning the support of the great agricultural vote, asserted that the Republican party had done but little for the farmers of the country. The Republican party has not only appropriated over $5,000,000 for the support of the agricultural department, at the head of which is the great secretary of agriculture, James Wilson of Iowa, but it appropriated more than $20,000,000 at the last session for the support of the rural free delivery service throughout the United States. That service is one of the fruits of Republican administration. More important than these are the benefits coming to the farmers of the United States through the beneficent operation of the policies of the Republican party. We well understand that eight years ago the products of the farm brought inadequate prices in the market and that since then their value has greatly increased.

"We have found everywhere among the farmers of the country where I have been, that they have been able to pay off mortgages, incurred during Democratic administration, with the fruits of Republican prosperity. In all of the cities and villages through the great agricultural regions, farmers have money on deposit in the banks. They have become in many places money lenders. Down in Kansas, the other day, I learned that many of the farmers of that state and of Oklahoma, had invested in millions of dollars worth of the Philippine bonds, floated in the United States, and I learned further the fact that the farmers of some sections of our country have invested their savings, won under Republican administration, in the bonds that have been negotiated by one of the powers now engaged in war in the far east."

THE DEATH ROLL

Funeral of Ex-Mayor Lyon.

The funeral of Maj. Robert W. Lyon, ex-mayor of Pittsburgh, who died early Sunday morning, took place yesterday afternoon at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. James Mesick, 778 Chartiers avenue, McKees Rocks. The services began at 2 o'clock, and were conducted by the Rev. O. N. Verner of the McKees Rocks Presbyterian church and the Rev. E. W. Brewster, who preached the funeral sermons. The church choir took part in the singing exercises. There was a large gathering of McKees Rocks citizens, with scores from Pittsburgh, Butler and New Kensington. The members of the McKees Rocks Veteran association were present in a body, and many members of the Union Veterans Legion attended. The pall-bearers were selected from members of the Union Veteran Legion and from Franklin lodge, F. & A. M. The casket was draped in a large union jack, and there were flowers and emblems in profusion, one carriage being used exclusively to convey these. More than 40 carriages were in the procession which led to Calvary cemetery, where the interment took place.

Mrs. Elizabeth S. Allison.

Funeral services will be held over the remains of Mrs. Elizabeth S. Allison at her late home, 905 East End avenue, at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon by the Rev. Arthur D. Mink, pastor of Emory Methodist Episcopal church, of which Mrs. Allison was a member. Interment will be made in the family burial lot in Allegheny cemetery. Mrs. Allison, who was aged 66, died at her home on Monday. She was born in Pittsburgh and for many years resided in Main street, Lawrenceville, and during her residence in that district she was a member of the Butler Street Methodist Episcopal church. In 1888 she removed to Detroit, Mich., with her family. Her husband, John W. Allison, and a daughter, Carrie, died in that city. In 1897 she returned to Pittsburgh with her family. She is survived by three children, Marguerite L., Frank H. and Curtis H., and a granddaughter, Marguerite H.

Mrs. Bridget O'Connell.

Mrs. Bridget O'Connell, aged 75, widow of Mark O'Connell of Pittsburgh, is dead at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. W. Cushing, Swissvale avenue, Wilkinsburg, where she was visiting. She was born in Galway, Ireland, and came to this country 55 years ago, settling in Pittsburgh, where she was a resident of the First ward. She was a member of the St. Mary of Mercy's Roman Catholic church, and is survived by two sons, B. O'Connell and James O'Connell, and four daughters, Mrs. M. B. Foley, Mrs. S. Cummings and Mrs. Thomas Flaherty, all of Pittsburgh, and Mrs. W. Cushing of Wilkinsburg. There are 35 grandchildren. Funeral services will be held at St. James' Roman Catholic church, Wilkinsburg, at 9 o'clock this morning.

David Derfel Roberts.

David Derfel Roberts, aged 68, died suddenly of heart disease at 3 p. m. yesterday, at the home of his son, John R. Roberts, 2820 Wylie avenue. His death was not unexpected, as he had been a sufferer from heart trouble for some time. Mr. Roberts was born in North Wales, and came to this country 22 years ago. Until he retired from business he conducted a notion store in the Fourteenth ward, where he was very well known. He was a member of the Oakland Welsh Presbyterian church. Mr. Roberts is survived by two sons, John R. and Robert O. of 596 Hazelwood avenue. He buried his wife last summer.

Funeral of David S. Elliott.

The funeral of David Stacey Elliott, a former coal operator of Braddock, was held yesterday morning from his late home in Hickory street, North Braddock. Interment was made in the Mills vault in Monongahela cemetery. The Rev. A. B. Wilson, pastor of the North Braddock United Brethren church, conducted funeral services at the family home Monday evening.

Frank Short.

Frank Short of Valley street, Ingram, died Monday evening, aged 52. He had been a resident of Ingram for eight years and is survived by his widow, four daughters and three sons—Mrs. L. Turney, Mrs. Arthur Reed, Annie and Essie Short, and James, Robert and Charles Short, all of Ingram. Funeral services will be held at his late home today at 1 o'clock p. m. and the interment will be in the Allegheny cemetery.

Thomas Morrell.

Thomas Morrell, 82 years old, died on Monday at his residence, 3440 Chestnut street, Philadelphia. He belonged to one of the oldest families in that city. His grandfather, John Morrell, was a shipping merchant, as was his father, Thomas Morrell. His mother was a Miss Barrington of English ancestry and one of the original members of the Assembly. Her father was one of the aids to receive Lafayette when the latter visited Philadelphia.

Dennis Allen Buried.

The remains of Dennis Allen, a former business man of Pittsburgh, who died at the home of his son-in-law, A. J. Darrah, in Ebensburg, Pa., aged 74, were interred yesterday afternoon in St. Mary's cemetery, Lawrenceville. The Rev. Father Francis Keane, pastor of Sacred Heart Catholic church, East End, conducted the funeral services.

Obituary Notes.

John McDermitt, clerk at the Hotel Davis, New Castle, died last night at the home of his mother, Mrs. Ellen McDermitt. He was 26 years old. He leaves three sisters, Mrs. David I. Bevan and the Misses Agnes and Mary.

W. B. McGary, 50 years old, of Weston, W. Va., one of the best-known Democrats in the state, died yesterday at Cook's hospital, Fairmont, of blood poison. He was a member of the Democratic executive committee of Lewis county and a candidate for nomination for congress from the First district. He leaves a widow.

Henry Steving, who had lived in Indiana, Pa., for 55 years, is dead. He was born in Weinheim, Germany, in 1824 and came to this country in 1847, locating in Indiana two years later. He is survived by his widow and eight children—E. A. of Pitcairn, W. G. of Manor, Mrs. Anne George and Mrs. Margaret Miller of Bridgeville and John F. and Henry, both of this place.

M'GRATH IS TO GO ON THE TICKET

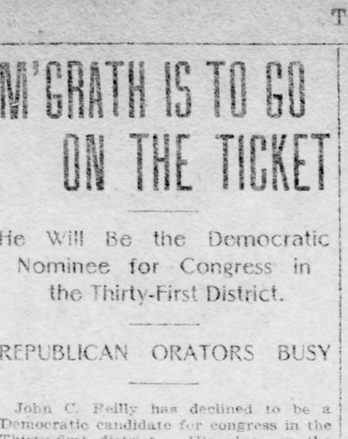
He Will Be the Democratic Nominee for Congress in the Thirty-First District.

REPUBLICAN ORATORS BUSY

John C. Reilly has declined to be a Democratic candidate for congress in the Thirty-first district. His place on the ticket will be taken by Dr. J. F. McGrath of the Sixth ward. W. H. S. Thomson, the nominee in the Twenty-ninth district, has been induced to withdraw his declination and will allow his name to be used.

Dr. McGrath is one of the young Democrats of Pittsburgh. He is a close friend of City Chairman James A. Clark, who succeeded in having the nomination made. While Dr. McGrath has no hope of defeating James F. Burke, the Republican nominee, he is hopeful of polling the full strength of the party in the district.

W. J. Brennen, chairman of the Democratic executive committee, has appointed this campaign committee and ordered it to meet at headquarters today: James A. Clark, S. J. Graham, J. P. Wall, J. F. O'Toole and James A. Wakefield.



DR. J. F. M'GRATH,
Who Is to Be the Democratic Candidate for Congress in the Thirty-first District.

"Was there ever a man placed before the American people as a candidate for president who came nearer representing the spirit of liberty than does our president?" asked Attorney John A. Murphy in his speech before the Eighth Ward Republicans at the Franklin school house last evening. James Francis Burke, who was expected to speak at the meeting, was unexpectedly called to New York. Daniel Ashworth delivered an eloquent address. The feature of the meeting was the speech of Mr. Murphy, who said:

The Republican party stands as it has since its birth in Old Lafayette hall, a party of advancement and advanced ideas. We never have had such an example of true Republicanism as we have today in the person of Theodore Roosevelt. He stands in a class of his own, a statesman, a soldier, an author, and above all a true Republican with advanced American ideas. Was there ever a man placed before the American people as a candidate for president who came nearer representing the spirit of liberty and true Americanism, than does our president? Fearless in the discharge of his duty as he was brave as a soldier, outspoken and clear on every issue that confronts our country today, and with an energy and capacity to grasp and conquer every issue that may arise in the future. The Republican party has had many men of whom it can well be proud, but no truer example of manhood ever stood before the American people, asking their suffrage.

On the other hand the Democratic party is split beyond redemption on the vital issues of the campaign. Judge Parker can make of the campaign without offending either the sane or insane wing of his party.

Dr. A. J. Barchfeld and Charles A. O'Brien delivered eloquent speeches at a Republican meeting in the Morse school house, Twenty-fifth ward, last night.

ROOSEVELT IS CERTAIN OF WINNING FIGHT

National Campaign Managers Made First Statement on the Situation.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The first official statement on election prospects, issued by the Republican national campaign managers, says:

"The conditions throughout the country, as indicated by reports received at national headquarters and officially given out today, show Roosevelt's election to be assured. Reports have been received from all the doubtful states, which indicates that they have passed the doubtful stage and are now safely for Roosevelt.

"New York will go for Roosevelt by a big plurality. Indiana is safe. Connecticut gives assurances of being in the Roosevelt column, while the truce concluded in Delaware leads the managers to the belief that Delaware will go Republican."

Light Clothing Worn in Pittsburgh

Delicate Shades Are More in Vogue Than Ever Before.

It used to be that residents of Pittsburgh were loath to buy light colored clothing. The smoke and dust of the city soon changed it to a different and darker shade. The consequence was that a light colored suit of clothes was seldom seen on the streets of the city, except when worn by a stranger.

But times have changed. With the introduction of the new process for cleaning by the Linnekin Company people are buying more light colored clothing for summer wear than ever before in the history of the city. The new process cleans clothing perfectly, restoring it to absolute newness. The cost is small. The work is done promptly.

DAVIS COMPLAINS OF HIS CANDIDACY

Refers to His Strait During Tour of Maryland and West Virginia.

HILL ATTACKS CORTELYOU

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

BALTIMORE, Oct. 11.—Henry G. Davis, Democratic vice presidential candidate, left Baltimore this morning on a 10-day campaigning tour of Maryland and West Virginia. He is accompanied by a corps of campaigners, including ex-Senator D. B. Hill of New York; Senator John W. Daniel of Virginia; ex-Gov. William Pinkney Whyte of Maryland, and Gen. L. W. Baughman.

At Rockville, Md., Mr. Davis, ex-Senator Hill and Senator Daniel made speeches. Mr. Davis briefly claimed Maryland as his native state. Speaking of his nomination he said: "I had no more to do with it than you."

Turning to Mr. Hill he continued: "I was selected by this distinguished friend, and I suppose I owe him a great deal for the trouble he has got me into."

Mr. Hill confined himself to a brief discussion of the tariff, saying that on this important issue the Democratic party stood where it had always stood, for a tariff for revenue only.

At Brunswick, Md., ex-Gov. Whyte, Hill and Senator Daniel spoke to a crowd of railroad men. Mr. Davis declared that he was always happy while railroading, and advised his hearers not to quit the business to "get into a strait as I have."

Mr. Hill reiterated his charge that Mr. Cortelyou had been taken from his position as secretary of commerce and labor to raise campaign funds for the Republican party. He said the Democratic platform had been approved by Grover Cleveland on the one hand and William J. Bryan on the other.

"And where there is such a platform you may well say the millennium has come and such poor Democrats as myself and the common people can well afford to follow where Cleveland and Bryan lead."

At Martinsburg, W. Va., the meeting was held in the public square. Mr. Davis reviewed the recent work of the West Virginia non-partisan tax commission, of which he was a member, and declared its recommendation that the revenues of the state should be raised entirely by taxing the corporate interests, had been entirely ignored by the Republican legislature, which had taxed the farmer and left the corporations off scott free.

Senator Daniel and Mr. Hill spoke on national issues. Short speeches were also made at Cherry Run, Paw Paw, Green Springs, and other towns.

Fairbanks to Speak in Wisconsin.

WILWAUKEE, Oct. 11.—Chairman W. D. Connor of the LaFollette Republican state central committee announced today that his committee was making arrangements for a Fairbanks meeting on Saturday, October 15. The committee is also arranging dates through the national committee for other speakers around the state.

Funeral of Joseph M. Bauman.

At 2 o'clock yesterday, from his late residence in Henry avenue, Sewickley, the funeral services of Joseph Milton Bauman took place, the Rev. John J. Hill, pastor of the Sewickley Methodist Episcopal church, officiating. The body was then taken in charge by 100 members of the Allegheny commandery, No. 35, Knights Templar, of which lodge Mr. Bauman was a member. The Templar quartet sang at the grave.

CABINET MEMBERS BRING GOOD NEWS

Morton, After Western Trip, Predicts Greatest Victory in History for Roosevelt.

METCALFE BACK CONFIDENT

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Room 16, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 11.

Paul Morton, secretary of the navy, returned to Washington today from the west and predicted that President Roosevelt would get a larger electoral vote than any candidate in history. He thinks Judge Parker will be more badly beaten than was Horace Greeley by Gen. Grant in 1872. Mr. Morton said today:

"I was in Illinois, Missouri, Nebraska and Wisconsin. Unless all signs fail, the west will give the president a larger vote than any candidate before him has ever had. From data received from very well informed people, I have no reason to doubt that Colorado will be for the president by a large majority, and that there is not the slightest doubt about Wisconsin. Nebraska will give 25,000 majority for Roosevelt. I am surprised to learn how many Democrats are going to vote the Republican ticket this fall. As I view it, about the only doubtful state in the western country is Missouri. If I am any prophet at all, there will be a regular landslide in favor of Mr. Roosevelt."

Secretary Metcalf of the department of commerce and labor, who has just returned from California, said after the cabinet meeting today:

"My state will give the Republican ticket 70,000 plurality and probably more. All the indications point that way. In Los Angeles county, the Republican stronghold of the state, the registration this year is 20,000 in excess of two years ago, and it is the general agreement that this increase represents Republican strength. There is a strong Republican sentiment all over the state. I do not know about the Pacific coast states, but I am informed that the majorities they will give will be overwhelmingly Republican."

BIG MEETINGS FOR GOTHAM.

Senator Fairbanks Will Address Them. Shaw and Root to Speak.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The Republican national committee has arranged for two large meetings in New York on the night of October 19. Senator Fairbanks, the vice presidential candidate, will speak at both. One will be in Brooklyn, and besides Senator Fairbanks, Secretary Shaw and John L. Griffith of Indiana will speak. The other meeting will be in Madison Square garden, New York, and the speakers, besides Senator Fairbanks, will be former Secretary of War Elihu Root and George A. Knight of California.

Harmon Will Speak for Parker.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—(Special.)—Judge Parker received a message today from Judge Judson Harmon of Ohio, through a friend from London, that he will sail on October 8 and will enter into the campaign and do all he can in the interest of Parker and Davis.

AFTER BIG GAME FOR GRAFTING

Informations Prepared by District Attorney Against Two Prominent Alleghenians.

ALDERMAN WADSWORTH SICK

Although informations have been prepared and probably entered against at least two prominent Allegheny men, charging them with accepting bribes, or in other words, for grafting, their names will not be made public until they are arrested or have furnished bail for hearings. The informations, it is said, have been made before Alderman Toole, or will be made today or tomorrow. They have been properly drawn up, and the attorneys representing the commonwealth are about ready to go ahead, but all refuse to discuss this part of the case, and will give no information as to names until the constables have acted.

No more witnesses are being examined at the district attorney's office, although Attorney Harry Goehring, whose retention was made necessary because of the information he possessed and his valuable knowledge of the whole situation in Allegheny, is quietly finishing his portion of the work. A meeting will probably take place today, when the final orders will be given.

It is not likely that more than three or four Allegheny women will be brought into court on informations, although District Attorney Stewart thinks that the entire city should be cleaned up, whether the women tell what they know or not. He does not believe in permitting disorderly houses to exist at all, and if the information is laid before him he will act on it in every case, irrespective of what these women may tell or not tell about the grafting that exists on the north side of the river.

A conference was held at the office of Attorney Harry Goehring at noon yesterday, when he and Attorney John C. Haymaker talked over the situation. Shortly afterwards Attorneys Marron and Haymaker held a conference with District Attorney Stewart at the court house. Amos Dachroth, the ex-policeman, was on hand, while Ira L. Berry, the Anti-Saloon league detective who worked up the case against Fred Tschume, was there.

Alderman Walter Wadsworth of Allegheny, who was to have appeared yesterday afternoon before Alderman Toole to answer the charges of extortion and misdemeanor in connection with the Allegheny graft charges, failed to appear on account of sickness, and the case was postponed till next Tuesday at 4 o'clock. Attorney Charles A. Locke appeared for Wadsworth and asked for a continuance of the case, presenting an affidavit made by Dr. Charles A. Boucek, before Notary C. J. Weitershausen, stating the condition of his patient.

Attorney John C. Haymaker, for the prosecution, appeared to doubt the statement that Wadsworth was unable to walk on account of an attack of rheumatism.

"Was not the 'squire able to be at his office yesterday to hear a case?" he asked.

Attorney Locke admitted that he was, but said he had to hobble from his home to the office, but was in bed today with the foot swathed in bandages. The physician said it might be two or three weeks before the 'squire would be able to get out.

Several witnesses for the prosecution, including Libbie Stoner, the star witness, were present and were ordered to be present again on Tuesday.

NIMRODS PREPARING FOR GAME SEASON'S OPENING

Encouraging Reports from the Backwoods Will Send Many Hunters into the Fields Next Saturday.

The nimrods who can shoot, and vastly more who think they can, are brightening up their guns in preparation for the formal opening of the game season next Saturday. On that date they will have the state's guarantee of the legality of shooting wild turkey, squirrel, pheasants, quail and woodcock.

The mists of Indian summer will become dense with gun smoke next week, if the indications of local sportsmen's supply houses count for anything. There has been an unprecedented demand for ammunition, new guns and hunters' paraphernalia. Added to this are encouraging reports that come in from all points in the state that small game is unusually plenty. The stubble fields of Washington, Greene, Butler and Mercer counties are said to be filled with squirrels and pheasants. Over in Somerset, Bedford, Blair and Huntingdon counties honest natives declare that the capricious wild turkey may be found, and in Indiana county rabbits are said to be exceedingly plenty. The rabbit season, however, will not open until November 1.

Clearfield county is the only section in Pennsylvania where the noblest game, the deer, is undisturbed in his wild state. Over 50 fine specimens were captured in the camps last year along the famous "turkey path" between Lickrun Mills and Penfield. The deer season also opens in November.

CARING FOR THE BOYS.

Good Annual Report of the Oakdale Home—Election of Officers for the Coming Year.

The fourth annual meeting of the Boys' Industrial Home association was held in the chapel of the Young Men's Christian association, yesterday afternoon. Supt. J. W. Cleland reported that 176 boys have been under the care of the Oakdale home during the year ending October 1. These were disposed of as follows: Placed in good homes or secured positions, 90; returned to relatives or friends, 63; transferred to other institutions, 7; in the home October 1, 16; total, 176. These boys were of all religious faiths.

The farm has been a source of large benefit to the home, 70 tons of hay being harvested, and also a crop of oats, corn and vegetables.

Treasurer C. J. Dean reported that contributions of over $9,000 had been made to the home during the year, and that $7,000 had been received from other sources. The money had been expended in the purchase of the farm and equipping it in necessary improvements and in maintenance.

The Rev. Dr. Thomas Parry, the Rev. Dr. J. T. McCrory and Maj. R. W. A. Simmons were re-elected members of the board, and Mrs. W. R. Jamison was elected in the place of T. M. Porter, resigned. The Rev. Dr. J. H. McIlvain, rector of Calvary Episcopal church, was added to the advisory board.

The Rev. Dr. Thomas Parry, Maj. John W. Nesbit, W. H. Jamison, Mrs. J. A. Evans were directed to meet with the state board of charities in behalf of an increased appropriation.

The officers chosen for the year are: The Rev. Dr. Thomas Parry, president; the Rev. Dr. J. T. McCrory, vice president; Maj. R. E. Stewart, counsellor; W. H. Jamison, secretary; Charles J. Dean, treasurer; John W. Cleland, superintendent, and the Rev. D. M. Cleland, financial secretary.

WESTERN UNION CASE PASSED

Illness of One of the Attorneys Causes This Action by the Supreme Court.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—The supreme court of the United States today passed temporarily the case of the Western Union Telegraph Company against the Pennsylvania railroad, on account of the illness of one of the senior counsel for the telegraph company, Mr. Dillon. No date was set.

The United States supreme court today struck from the docket the case of William L. Elkins, appellant, against the city of Chicago, the Chicago West Division Railway Company, and others, involving street railroad franchise questions.

Trouble in an Allegheny Flat.

The troubles in a flat were told to Alderman McKelvey yesterday by the papers in suits brought by Ada Jordon and Henry Jordon, who reside in Brighton place, Allegheny. Ada Jordon alleges that she was assaulted by Newton Morgan, Bertha Morgan, Robert Ashley and Matilda Young, and similar charges are brought against Robert Ashley by Henry Jordon. It all started in fun at a little social gathering.

ANOTHER TRY AT TROLLEY BILLS

Special Meeting of Select Next Monday to Take Ordinances Out of Committee.

WORKING ON THE BOULEVARD

A special meeting of select council will be called for next Monday by the administration to make another effort to take the Pittsburgh Railway Company's ordinances out of the hands of the special committee and to pass the measures on one reading. This will require but a majority vote, and if the administration succeeds in bringing the bills out of the committee and passing them on one reading, successive meetings will be held until they are passed finally. Then they will go to common council.

A meeting of the special committee which holds the ordinances will be held on Friday. Dr. E. R. Walters, chairman of the committee, stated yesterday that he would call a meeting.

"I understand the traction company has finally decided to send a representative to give the committee the information it desires regarding the object of the loops which the company wants downtown. We will hold a meeting to give the company another chance to be heard," said Dr. Walters.

Councilmen Are Wary.

The anti-administration members of select council demonstrated on Monday that they had a majority of the members of that body and the administration must make converts to succeed in their purpose. The members of select council say they know the agreement between the Verner syndicate and the Pittsburgh Railways Company regarding the boulevard and other franchises procured by the Verner crowd, cannot be carried out unless Verner, Bigelow and Hays put through the trolley measures in select council.

"We know the boulevard line is no good nor any of the other Verner franchises any good to them unless the ordinances pending in select council are passed," said one of the most active members of the opposition of the upper branch yesterday. "We know they need us badly, and they will have a hard job to get enough votes to take the bills out of the committee with the tactics they are using."

Bigelow and Verner have their lieutenants already at work shaping up matters for next Monday. Unless they find the opposition cannot be overcome, the call for the meeting on Monday will be issued Friday. If a meeting is held the proceedings promise to be equally as sensational as those during the passage of the bond ordinance, which Controller Larkin charges in court were tainted with corruption.

Corporations Fight Each Other.

The fight in select council is largely a case of one corporation pitted against another. The Pittsburgh Railways Company is represented by the city administration and the other corporation, the Hall syndicate, is represented directly by officers of that company. Director James W. Clark is treasurer of the concern.

To avoid a clash with the balance of the administration Director Clark remains away from city hall during meetings of select council, but he is in close touch with the situation and on the outside does some effective work. He leaves his assistant, S. S. Leslie, secretary of the Hall company, to attend to the field work in the city hall. The effectiveness of the Hall company's efforts is shown by the compact organization built up in select council, largely by its efforts.

The Voters' Civic league has not yet decided to interfere with the construction of the Grant boulevard line. The officers of the organization met yesterday and discussed the matter, but reached no conclusion.

"I do not think that we will ask for an injunction," said one of the officers, "because we do not believe the Pittsburgh Railways Company intends to build the line just now. It is our opinion that only enough track will be laid to strengthen the company's claim to the boulevard and also to feel public sentiment, before proceeding further."

Injunction Given Up.

The view taken by the Voters' Civic league does not agree, however, with the expressions of Director Bigelow and Judge Reed, president of the Philadelphia Company. Director Bigelow said that a permit had been issued to the Pittsburgh Railways Company for the entire line, and he believed it was the intention to build the road at once. The director said the road would occupy about half of the roadway, leaving about 20 feet for a driveway on the outside of the car tracks.

He said the company wanted to lay the tracks on the outside in order to keep them clear of the numerous slips that occur on the hillside in rainy spells. This the director refused to grant.

According to Judge Reed, the settlement with the Verner people has not been consummated and will not be completed until certain conditions are met by Verner and his associates. It is generally believed, among councilmen and others, that these conditions are the granting by councils of the downtown loops to connect the new lines and to shut out the Hall syndicate from downtown streets.

Judge Reed said that not only would the boulevard line be built now, but that it was also the intention to build the other line traversing the Squirrel Hill district and third line from Squirrel Hill across town to Shady avenue and the East End district.

Work on Boulevard Continues.

The work on the boulevard line is still proceeding and there are no signs of quitting. Only one track is being laid at present, but new ground was broken yesterday for the extension of the track farther east. Workmen began laying track yesterday and last evening the track layers were 25 feet behind the excavators. Judge Reed said that the boulevard line would be completed in 90 days. He said the traction company wanted Seventh avenue and New Grant street to make a loop around Union station, and thus avoid taking more cars into the congested district. This would indicate that the Dante alley route is not regarded as feasible.

Big Hungarian Event in Homestead.

Preparations for the dedication of the Hungarian Reformed church building in Dixon street, Homestead, are nearing completion. The dedication is to be on Sunday, October 30, and the Rev. Dr. J. H. Prugh, pastor of Grace Reformed church, will be the principal speaker at the English services to be held in the afternoon. Nearly a score of ministers will take part. Previous to the dedication a parade will be held, and it is expected that about 50 Hungarian societies will take part.

To Form Women's Labor League.

Steps have been taken to organize a women's labor league. Its membership will consist of the wives, daughters and sisters of workingmen. At the last meeting of Iron City Central Trades council a committee was appointed to arrange for such an organization. Miss Lottie Williamson was appointed chairman of the committee, and she announced yesterday that a meeting will be held in a few days.

MEANS TO MAKE COMMITTEE ACT

Dr. Eaton Determined to Have a Decision on Church Avenue (Allegheny) Controversy.

MAY CARRY IT INTO COUNCILS

Unless the special joint committee, appointed by Allegheny councils to investigate the legality of the possession by the Fort Wayne road of what is known as the Church avenue property, takes some action at the meeting tonight, Dr. Easton, chairman of the committee, will carry the matter into select council. He proposes to do this by introducing a resolution asking the city solicitor to take such action in court as will restore to the city the possession of the street. The property involved in the controversy is an extension of Church avenue, from Federal street to Sherman avenue, about 480 feet. It is occupied by the Fort Wayne passenger yards.

The committee was appointed in July to investigate the subject, but Dr. Easton says he has not been able to secure a quorum, although he has repeatedly issued calls for meetings. Now, he says, he is going to give the committee just one more chance to get together. If it does not report a resolution tonight Dr. Easton, as member of the select council, and not as chairman of the special committee, will attempt to put the council on record by forcing a vote on his resolution.

If the aggressive chairman should attempt to make an open fight of the affair, he will find formidable opposition. The sentiment among the members of both branches of the city legislature is that the ejection of the Fort Wayne road from this property would be more injurious to Allegheny than it would to the road. It is argued that the loss of this property would cramp the railroad for room and preclude the building of a union station on the Allegheny side of the river.

Dr. Easton insists there is no reason why a railway corporation should be allowed to occupy property which belongs to the city, any more than to take money out of the treasury. He argues that if the road has a right to the property, it should be given a clear title to it.

The special committee, which was appointed to investigate the matter, is composed of Dr. A. Easton, chairman; Michael Brown, select councilman, Ninth ward; Peter Born, select councilman, Seventh ward; Robert Henderson, common councilman, Third ward; Thomas McHenry, common councilman, Sixth ward, and Henry Meyers, common councilman, Second ward.

BIG STRUCTURAL AWARDS TO LOCAL CONTRACTORS

James Stewart & Co. Will Build New Skyscrapers in New York and Norfolk and a Baltimore Bank.

Contracts, aggregating $1,500,000, for important new buildings, one in New York city and another at Norfolk, Va., and the third in Baltimore, have just been awarded the Pittsburgh contracting firm of James Stewart & Co.

The New York building will be one of the notable structures of the downtown section of the metropolis. It is a 20-story office building for the Commercial Cable Company, and will be at Exchange place and New street. The structure will be supported on steel caissons extending down 75 feet to rock, with four stories below the street level.

The Norfolk structure is a 12-story banking and office building for the Bank of Commerce of Norfolk, at Main and Commerce streets. It will be one of the handsomest and most imposing building in Virginia, with marble, mahogany and bronze finishings.

The National Exchange bank of Baltimore is the Maryland builder. It will erect a three-story banking building with basement and sub-basement on the triangle bounded by German street, Liberty street and Hopkins place. It will rank among the finest bank buildings in the Monumental city.

"The Two Orphans."

The all-star "Two Orphans," which appears at the Nixon theater next week, has attracted more attention throughout the surrounding country than any attraction that has before played Pittsburgh, with the possible exception of "Ben Hur." The cast includes nine of the most notable actors and actresses on the American stage. James O'Neill, Louis James, J. E. Dodson, Grace George, Mrs. LeMoyne, Sarah Truax and Clara Morris are too well known to the theatergoing public to need any introduction. The advance sale of seats will open Thursday morning.

"Paris by Night."

Direct from a three-months' run at the Madison Square garden, New York, "Paris by night," with Leslie and Dailey heading a company of 60 people, comes to the Duquesne theater next week. The music for the production is one of the strong features, having been written by Alfred Solman and Robert W. Edwards. The chorus and the famous "Diana Girls" add much to the action.

YOUTHS OF WHITAKER PLAY FOOTBALL STRENUOUSLY

Football, always a strenuous game, is especially so as the youths of Whitaker play it, judging from the number of accidents recently reported from that suburb of Homestead. Stephen Andrews, 11 years old, was practicing with a team, and in a center rush his right leg got tangled up in a mass of kicking humanity, and he suffered a bad fracture below the knee. Lawrence Schoup, aged 13, had his right arm broken while playing the game yesterday, and Walter Ashton, aged 10 years, had his right arm broken. Frank Dodge of Munhall was knocked down and seriously injured yesterday afternoon. He was unconscious for an hour, and it is feared he is internally injured.

Looking Up Yale Graduates.

Anson Phelps Stokes, Jr., secretary of Yale university, has written to Mayor Hays asking him to secure the addresses of Cooper Wood, class of '98, and Henry H. Robinson, class of '95, both of whom are men thought to be located in or near this city. Their names are desired for the new Yale directory of living graduates.

Left Fortune for Fourth of July.

BOZEMAN, MONT., Oct. 11.—The district court has admitted the will of J. N. Tilton to probate. The income from the estate will, in accordance with the provisions of the will, be used for the adequate celebration of the Fourth of July in this city.

WHOLE ARMY IS NOT YET IN LINE

Gen. Kuropatkin is Expected to Fight a Decisive Battle in Present Engagement.

STRATEGY AGAINST NUMBERS

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 12.—Severe fighting north of Yentai, resulting in a temporary check of Gen. Kuropatkin's advance guard, is not regarded at the war office as indicating a general engagement. The latest official dispatches indicating the disposition of the various corps shows that the whole army is not yet in line of battle. The present engagement may therefore be regarded as the result of a counter attack which an enterprising foe like the Japanese might be expected to make, but without any calculation to prevent the Russian advance.

Gen. Kuropatkin's present superiority in numbers, it is held here, is bound sooner or later to compel the Japanese to fall back upon their strong positions within the triangle formed by Yentai, Liao-Yang and Sykwantun. Everything points to that district as being the prospective scene of the decisive struggle of this year's campaign. Strategic reasons of the most weighty character render it imperative for the Russians as well as for the Japanese to bestow their chief attention upon the country east of the railway.

The Russians are compelled to this course because the railroad runs northeastward, and hence lines of communication are more vulnerable from the east. The Japanese are influenced by a similar consideration, but the railroad no longer plays a foremost part in their plans. In view of the approaching close of navigation at Yinkow and of the fact that the line from Pitsewo is long and cumbersome and liable to interruption, they must consider Feng-Wang-Cheng and Takushan as the source of supplies during the winter, and with this in view the eastern communications of Liao-Yang are of the utmost importance.

The Yentai triangle is admirably situated to protect them. Field Marshal Oyama must therefore hold this triangle at all costs. The problem confronting Gen. Kuropatkin in the immediate future is the capture of the fortified heights composing this triangle, where the Japanese will have the advantage of fighting behind breastworks and utilizing their superiority in mountain guns. The general superiority of the Japanese in mountain operations is conceded.

The Russian commander undoubtedly is aware of the difficulties of the task before him, has measured them well and is confident of his ability to overcome them.

NATIVES UNFIT FOR GOVERNMENT

School Teacher Writes of Conditions as Seen in One Province in Mindanao.

SITUATION SAME IN OTHERS

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Some of the inside facts as to the conditions in the Philippines are revealed in a letter which has just been received here from Lewis S. Thomas, a school teacher at Cagayan, Mindanao. Mr. Thomas does not believe the Filipinos are ready for self-government, if they ever will be so. He says:

"The province of Misamis has many advantages, and is not particularly small or unprogressive. It has as many well educated men as any province in the archipelago. It has had three years of civil self-government, and the native has had full swing, with the assistance of capable white officials, and the province is worse off than when it began. The roads and bridges are worse and the business is poorer.

"In the three years there have been three uprisings of minor importance. Two came from ignorant men, who claimed to be the reincarnation of Jose Rizal. These men were liberally supported by the poor, too. The military government was called upon. One American cavalry captain and two soldiers were killed in this trouble. While this was going on the census was being taken, and another uprising began on this account, which the native officials were powerless to suppress or control. The military again came to their assistance, with native scouts under white officers, and left 80 dead Filipinos on the field, whose relatives neglected to bury them, so that the corpses were eaten by the dogs. This past year another representative of Rizal was discovered, and whole villages departed for the mountains, and there prayed until they decided to lay tribute on all who should not join them. This disturbance resulted in the death of five constabulary soldiers, the severe injuring of a sergeant, several deaths among the bandits and the sending of some 60 to the penitentiary at Bilibid for terms of from 5 to 20 years."

There are numerous other instances cited, and Mr. Thomas concludes: "Misamis is not the worst province in the archipelago, and if four years of a history like her's is a proof that the Filipino is unable, even to choose his own municipal governors, then the decision seems to be contrary to the evidence. Her history is exactly like that of every other province in the Islands, as any hasty resume of the files of Manila papers or official documents will show."

LOVE CLOSED THE CHASM AFTER MANY LONG YEARS

Isham Collins Decides the War Is Over and Remarries His First Love.

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., Oct. 11.—Isham Collins, 85 years old, who served in the Confederate army and in 1865, after returning from the war, became incensed at his wife on account of her feeding a party of Yankee soldiers and brought suit for divorce, returned home today after an absence of 39 years in Indian territory.

He had secured a legal separation from the woman. Today he hunted her up in Wharncliffe and, begging forgiveness for what he had done in 1865, proposed and was accepted.

The two old people, he 85 and she 80 years old, were wedded again.

FOUR ACES WERE BEATEN.

One Held for Embezzlement, While Three Say He Got All the Money from the Ball.

"All ob de money what wuz took in went in de box and stayed dere, and neber cum out to enybody but de foah aces."

Such was the defense of John Berry at a hearing before Alderman Negley last night, charged with embezzelment by Van Jones, Frank Rogers and Arthur Clark. All the parties to the suit were negroes, and the trouble was over a ball given by the Four Ace club in Arcade hall, Center and Ellsworth avenues, last Saturday night.

The litigants compose the full membership of the club, and were to divide profits accruing from the sale of tickets at 50 cents each for "gents" and 35 cents for ladies. According to Berry, cut rates were established.

"When a man only have a quarter he neber get away; we takes de money and he passes right along. When a lady—she hab only 15 cents—she pass right in and we takes what she had," was the evidence.

Over 200 tickets were sold, and when Berry counted the box office receipts the cash aggregated but $34. Clark, who officiated at the cloak room, took in $10 in 10-cent checks, and deducted from the fact that 100 wraps had been checked that the gate receipts should have been at least $85.

Alderman Negley found the mathematical problem too hard to solve and dismissed the case, dividing the costs.

WILL NOT AID THE DEMOCRATS

Republican Candidate for Elector Refuses to Run on the Independent Ticket.

USED WITHOUT PERMISSION

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Press Building,
PHILADELPHIA, PA., Oct. 11.

W. J. Whitehouse, Republican candidate for elector from Schuylkill county, today forwarded to the secretary of state a sworn acknowledgement that he is a candidate on the straight Republican ticket only and insisting that his name will not be published on any other ticket. The reason for his doing this is that promoters of the "Citizens" party and the "Roosevelt and Fairbanks Protectionist" party have been using his name and those of other Republican electoral candidates on their tickets without permission.

It is probable that the action of Mr. Whitehouse will be followed by Republican electors in all counties where independent Democratic movements have been inaugurated, especially in those districts or counties where congressional, senatorial, legislative and judicial contests are considered close.

These independent tickets have been placed in the field by Democrats, and it is the opinion of the Republican state leaders that they should not be helped by the Republican electoral ticket of Pennsylvania.

It has been the uniform practice of Chairman Penrose and his associates at the head of the state organization, to not participate in local county differences but the use of the names of Republican electors to defeat Republican congressmen and other straight party tickets, could not under any circumstances be countenanced.

DYNAMITE TO BLOW UP TUSCARAWAS COUNTY JAIL

Prisoners Planned Desperate Means of Escape, but Were Foiled.

COSHOCTON, O., Oct. 11.—Eight sticks of dynamite were found in the county jail tonight just in time to thwart a plot to blow up the building and free the seven prisoners, all of whom are in on burglary charges. The grand jury will meet Monday.

Sheriff Browning made the discovery through an anonymous note written by one of the prisoners and hidden on a tray of soiled supper dishes sent back to the kitchen, saying "Look out tonight. Dynamite in bath room."

A search proved the truth. It is supposed the dynamite had been handed in at various times through the bars by friends of the Rivers boys, who attempted to crack the Warsaw bank safe last month.

As a fitting climax to the close of the baseball season the American Lumber and Manufacturing Company gave a dinner to nine of its employes who enjoy the honor of playing the best baseball this season. The Pittsburgh Wholesale Lumbermen's association put up a prize for the leading team, the contestants being restricted to men working for the lumber firms affiliated with the association. The nine employes of the American Lumber Company won the prize, which was a loving cup. As a recognition of their efforts, President W. D. Johnston gave a dinner at the Henry to the team, which team consisted of L. E. Sattler, S. Benz, H. Mapes, W. Fields, R. Rabe, L. A. Little, E. B. Hamilton, J. F. Morrow, G. B. Montgomery, L. J. R. Wood, passenger traffic manager of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, spent yesterday conferring with local officials. He returned to his headquarters in Philadelphia last evening. He said: "The passenger receipts are increasing, due principally to the travel to the world's fair."

THREATENED TO DESTROY CHURCH

Police Guard Men from Vengeance of Crowd Gathered at Hearing.

BLACK HAND MEMBERS THERE

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Press Building,
PHILADELPHIA, PA., Oct. 11.

Mutterings against eight men charged with inciting to riot in urging the destruction of the Catholic church of our Lady of Good Counsel on Monday night were so general at the Second and Christian streets police station today that it was necessary to place an extra guard of policemen around the station when the hearing was going on.

Magistrate Smith held two of the accused in the sum of $500 bail each for court and sent the others to the House of Correction for 10 days each. The police said that those assembled in the hall also advocated the killing of the priests connected with the church named. This evidence was not brought out at the hearing, the Rev. Angelo Caruso, rector of the church, declining to attend.

It was said that a number of anarchists and members of the Black Hand society were here from New York to attend this meeting. By keeping quiet when the police entered they managed to escape undetected. CHESTER D. POTTER.

RINGING WELCOME GIVEN MME. HENRIETTE KEIL

Former Pittsburgh Soloist Appears With Damrosch's Orchestra and Scores a Great Success.

A large audience greeted Walter Damrosch's first "Symphony night" at the Exposition. Nearly all the seats in the reserved section were taken up by well-known members of Pittsburgh's society.

Mme. Henriette Keil appeared in the second concert, singing Weber's solo aria, from "Der Freischuetz." Her reception was almost deafening and she was encored again and again, until it seemed impossible for her to satisfy the demand of the insistent hundreds charmed by her beautiful voice. It was a decided triumph for Mme. Keil and one she will ever remember, especially because it was a welcome from her own people, as she was formerly a Pittsburgher.

Washington's River Plans.

In a paper on "Washington's Last Visit to Pennsylvania" which E. W. Hassler read to the Western Pennsylvania Historical society last evening at the Carnegie library, a number of facts which are little known were brought out. One of these was Washington's attempt to connect the Potomac with the Monongahela and Ohio by way of the Cheat. In order to increase the value of his 42,000 acres of land in West Virginia and in Fayette and Washington counties in this state, Father A. A. Lambing read a paper on "The Early History of Salt."

PIRATES MADE A GREAT FINISH---TEAMS ARE HERE TODAY

WON GAME IN FINAL INNINGS

Pirates Fought to the Finish and Scored a Victory When Defeat Seemed Certain.

SOME VERY FINE FIELDING

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CLEVELAND, Oct. 11.—The Clevelands and the Pirates met in contest this afternoon in the second game of the post-season series. Up to the seventh inning the Clevelands had the game all sewed up and were waiting for the end to shout, but their hopes were rudely shattered when in the seventh the Pirates tied the score and in the eighth added four more to it and cinched the game.

For the first five innings it was a battle royal, neither team being able to score. In the sixth Vinson led off with a clean double. Flick beat out a scratch hunt. Lajoie singled and Turner made a nice drive to center field, and three runs were chalked up. The Clevelands seemed to think that right here they had the game won, as Bernhard was pitching good ball. It was in the seventh that the Pirates demonstrated that they do not consider a game lost until the final inning is played, and they proceeded to wipe out the lead of the "Napoleons."

Beaumont was passed to the initial bag. McCormick and Wagner made singles, filling the bases. Beaumont scored on Bransfield's single to left. Leach grounded to Lajoie, and McCormick scored on the play. Wagner ambled home on Ritchey's grounder to Lajoie. In Cleveland's half of the seventh they had two men on bases when Buelow beat out a bunt and Bernhard was safe on Leach's bad throw. Vinson put up a little pop fly. The best Bresley could do was to force Bernhard. Flick hit a nice grounder but Ritchey was right there with his mit and put him out at first.

In the eighth the Clevelands forgot they were engaged in a ball game. Leever doubled to right, a hit which Flick should have gotten. Clarke singled and Beaumont hit over the shortstop's head and Leever came home. McCormick sacrificed. Turner fumbled Wagner's hit and threw wild to the plate and Clarke tallied. Kruger hit to Bradley, who caught Beaumont at the plate. Buelow dropped the ball just as he was going to throw to third, and Beaumont easily scored. On Ritchey's single, Wagner scored the last tally of the game.

Cleveland's players made some fine stops during the early part of the game, at times bordering on the sensational. The Pittsburgh team never forgot for a minute that they were in the game. The fielding of Leach, Wagner and Ritchey was marvelous. In the seventh inning Umpire Klem put Bransfield off the field for kicking too much. This necessitated a change in the team, Wagner going to first and Kruger to short. Klem threatened other expulsions as every decision he made was questioned by the Pirates. Both teams left for Pittsburgh at 6 o'clock. The score:

PIRATES WERE HAPPY.

Team Returned Home Last Night from Cleveland—Will Meet Today.

The Pirates were a happy bunch of players when they arrived home from Cleveland last night, the victory over the American leaguers in the second game of the post-season series being responsible. The batting streak developed in the seventh and eighth innings was something terrific and was totally unlooked for by the Cleveland players.

The members of the Cleveland team did not come over with the Pirates, but will arrive at noon today. The pitchers for today's contest will be Case for the Pirates and big Adrian Joss for Cleveland. The American leaguers were sore over their defeat yesterday and promise to make things lively in the remaining games.

In yesterday's contest the work of Wagner and Lajoie was almost equal in both batting and fielding, and as there is a lively competition, some great playing may be expected in the remaining contests. President Dreyfuss stated last night that as soon as one team wins three games the series will end. Today's game will be called at 3 o'clock.

In order to have everything ready for the present hockey season, a meeting is called for next Tuesday, October 13, at 242 Winterburn avenue, and the players are requested to report without fail.

MT. UNION TEAM WAS VERY EASY

W. U. P. Piled Up a Large Score and Many Long Runs Were Made During Game.

SOME GREAT ROOTING

The real feature of the football game between the W. U. P. and Mt. Union elevens over at Exposition park yesterday afternoon was the display of rooting put up by the university students. The game ended 67 to 0 in favor of W. U. P., and the score would have been much larger had not the local boys grown tired carrying the ball up and down the field. This score come within three points of the record score which is held by the old Homestead eleven made against the Ohio Meds two years ago, and which was 70 to 0.

The students of the university to the number of almost 500 turned out, and headed by a band paraded the streets before the game, and made merry while the contest was on. At the head of the parade the students had a donkey trimmed in the university colors, and on its back was a skeleton, which was said to be that of Martha Grinder, Pittsburgh's famous poisoner of half a century ago, who was the only woman ever hanged in Allegheny county. On reaching the park the skeleton was removed from the donkey's back and placed in an out-of-the way corner where it seemed to grin at the players and spectators and made a ghastly sight.

The students have created a new lot of yells and songs for this season, and they out loose for all they were worth yesterday. Every play was punctured with a yell or a song, while between the halves the players on both elevens were marshaled in front of the stand and given cheers and college yells, while the musicians tooted away until they were blue in the face. There was a crowd of 1,500 out to see the game and as nearly all were local rooters they got a fine run for their money.

The game was nothing more than a walkaway for the W. U. P. team, the visiting eleven never being in it at any stage. Only once during the 40 minutes of actual play did the Mt. Union boys make a first down, and never once did W. U. P. fail to make a first down. There were long runs galore in which Capt. Joe Thompson, "Jud" Schmidt and Lew Rosser carried off the honors as well as the ball. Had the visitors the same amount of weight as they had pluck the game would have been a much closer one. They saw from the start off that they were up against it, but they never flinched and took their medicine like little men, a display that pleased the spectators.

The W. U. P. team put up a splendid game and the team work all the way was fine. The interference was quick to form and generally held together until the player with the ball was well out of harm's way. The game, however, was not a fair test of the W. U. P.'s real ability as the opposition was not strong enough to withstand any kind of an attack. The only place where ragged work was shown was in the kicking of goal by Edgar, who missed five chances for points. The line up and score:

W. U. P.—67.		Mt. Union—0.
Boisseu	L. E.	Daugherty
Waddell	L. T.	Wallace
Zelg	L. G.	Rinehi
McKean	C.	King
Edgar	R. G.	Hannum
Marshall	R. T.	Raeder
East	R. E.	Price
Ritchie	Q. B.	Van Horn
Thompson	L. H.	Rex
Schmidt	R. H.	Ellett
Mahl	F. B.	Johns

Goals—Thompson, 3; Marshall, Schmidt, Mahl, 2; Russer, 2; Springer, East, 2. Goals from touchdown—Edgar, 7. Substitutions—Ritchie for Boisseiu, Leidenroth for Zelg; Russer for Schmidt; Springer for Mahl. Officials—Dr. William Farrar, U. of P.; A. H. Wilson, Mt. Union. Time of halves—20 minutes.

YOUNGSTOWN, Oct. 11.—(Special.)—Ohio Works took another game from the All-Professionals of Pittsburgh today. May Form Two Leagues.

Basketball, the popular winter sport, is spreading so rapidly in lower Allegheny as to render it possible to form two leagues from the younger teams of that locality. For more than a month past the managers and players of the junior and midget teams of Manchester have been talking of doing this, and it has finally been decided to call a meeting of these teams. This meeting will take place tonight at 9 o'clock at the headquarters of the Manchester basketball team, and the managers of the following teams are requested to be on hand or send a representative: Manhattans, Fowlers, Railroads, Ramblers, Tom Thumbs, Manchester Midgets, Railroad Midgets and Fowler Midgets. Sam Dunlap and the manager of any other Allegheny team desiring to enter either of these leagues are also requested to be on hand.

Wilhelm Given a Reception.

WOOSTER, O., Oct. 11.—(Special.)—One of the largest crowds of the season was drawn here this afternoon by the announcement that Irve Wilhelm of the Boston Nationals would pitch for the Giants against Zanesville. Wilhelm played in the field, refusing to go in the box on account of cool weather. During the game Judge M. L. Smyser presented the Giants with a silver loving cup, won by the Giants as leaders of the Trolley league. Score:

Made a Clever Showing.

While Mrs. Elliott Rodgers, Miss Louise B. Elkins and Miss Mary Fownes, Pittsburgh's representatives in the women's championship competition at the Merion Cricket club now in progress, did not qualify, their showing was very creditable and may do much for future similar events. It took 107 to qualify. Mrs. Rodgers had a 56, 57—113. Miss Elkins had a 56, 58—114, and Miss Fownes a 60, 57—117. There were 22 scores below 117 and 12 withdrew.

BIG COLLEGE TEAMS TOOK LIGHT PRACTICE

Yale Prepares for a Kicking Game. Slump at Harvard—Tigers Ready for Lafayette.

TODAY'S FOOTBALL GAMES.

Springfield vs. Yale.
Bates vs. Harvard.
Lafayette vs. Princeton.
Gettysburg vs. Pennsy.
Swarthmore vs. Columbia.
Wesleyan vs. Brown.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Oct. 11.—Because the Yale coaches expect that a game with much punting and attempts to drop field goals will be the scheme of the Springfield Y. M. C. A. training school eleven tomorrow, the practice today was directed largely to such tactics. Both varsity and scrub teams' forwards broke through and blocked kicks. The second team outplayed the bigger varsity line and rushed the ball to the one yard line, where the regulars woke up and held for downs, after taking the ball out of danger.

Frank A. Hinkey and Field Coach Rafferty believe they have found in Stewart, a freshman, one of the two ends Yale needs. He was captain of Andover last year. Much drill was given him today. Rogers was given Quills' place at halfback on the varsity, as Morese and Shevlin's running mate. Together they make Yale's fastest trio of backs.

Harvard.

CAMBRIDGE, Oct. 11.—(Special.)—The Harvard varsity football eleven took a decided slump in its practice today. There was considerable fumbling and the general work was listless. The second eleven carried the ball 70 yards during the afternoon and once held the varsity for downs on the 20-yard line. There was offside playing by both teams, and two cases of holding in the line. The two formations used yesterday were tried again today, with a slight change on the formation for receiving the kick off. The three men who lined up abreast on the 25-yard line instead of waiting for the runner to approach, followed the ball, the runner and gave him interference from the start. The change made the play more effective, and removes the chance of a fast end getting the man with the ball before he gets to the interference. A new play was pulling Meier back from the line to head the tandem formation, Mills taking his place at tackle.

Princeton.

PRINCETON, Oct. 11.—Preliminary to tomorrow's game with Lafayette, the Tigers indulged in a very short practice this afternoon, which, however, made up in snap and spirit for what it lacked in length. A great deal of time was put on the coaching of individuals. Stannard receiving special attention in a long drill on the work peculiar to his position. Tooker was put through a long drill in kicking at different angles and the quality of his work shows steady improvement. Dutcher has been given his old place at center again in lieu of his temporary work at left guard. During the scrimmage neither team managed to score, but the first team made one brilliant rush from the 25-yard line which landed the pigskin within a yard of the goal.

Annapolis.

ANNAPOLIS, MD., Oct. 11.—The athletic authorities of the naval academy are arranging for the ordering here of several additional young officers, crack players on former naval academy teams. Head Coach Paul J. Dashiell is being assisted at present by Olcutt of Yale and Lieuts. Purdy, Bookwalter and McCarthy. The others expected shortly are Lieut. Byron A. Long, one of the best ends and quarters the navy ever had; Roger Williams, tackle of the 1900 and 1901 teams, and Passed Midshipman Palsey, fullback for the two seasons previous to this.

BUT ONE HEAT TO WIN RACE

Tom Axworthy Distanced Other Two Starters in First Heat and Took All the Money.

KING DIRECT WAS A WINNER

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

LEXINGTON, KY., Oct. 11.—Tom Axworthy, a prohibitive favorite, captured the $3,000 McDowell stake for 4-year-old trotters in the first heat of the three-heat race, and by distancing the other two horses took first, second and third money. It was a feat never before accomplished in a stake race on the Lexington track. The track was heavy. Tom Axworthy drew the pole, but the nearest he could get to the fence, on account of the mud puddles, was two sulky widths. The betting was: Tom Axworthy, 1 to 5, and Lady Pauline 6 and Oak Blossom 6 to 1 each.

The 2:16 trotting race, unfinished yesterday, was the first race called. Mainland and Millard Sanders had each won two heats yesterday. In the pooling Mainland sold for $50 and the field for $46. Millard Sanders won the heat and race with a length to spare. His time was 2:15¾.

The 2:08 class pacing was won by King Direct, the favorite, in three heats, after giving the first heat to Ash Rose.

The 2:09 class trotting was unfinished on account of darkness. Lisonjero, the favorite, failed to take a heat in the race. Summaries:

THE ENGLISH CHAMPION BEATEN BY BOSTON GIRL

Miss Dod Was Defeated by Miss Pauline Mackey, a Young Golfer—Some Other Surprises.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11.—Miss Charlotte Dod, the English premier golfing expert, met with defeat today at the hands of Miss Pauline Mackay, hailing from the Oakley Country club of Boston, on the first day's play of the women's national championship by 2 up and 1 to play. Miss Mackay is a young golfer and, although it was not by brilliant golf, the victory was none the less deserved. By the defeat Miss Dod is out of the championship.

Miss Mackay's victory was due to her ability to take advantage of Miss Dod's mistakes. The result was in doubt up to the seventeenth hole, at which point Miss Mackay was 1 up on her distinguished opponent. Miss Mackay's opening drive for the seventeenth hole was at least 170 yards, and the sphere rolled within two yards of the cup. Miss Dod followed, but sclaffed her tee shot. The ball landed on the far edge of the bank. She played her second short, and her approach put Miss Mackay in a yard from the hole. Miss Mackay then took the hole in two more strokes and won the match. The cards of the match follow:

Miss Mackay—
Out	5	5	5	8	6	5	4	5	4—47
Miss Dod—
Out	6	6	4	5	6	5	5	5	7—49
Miss Mackay—
In	5	6	6	6	7	5	6	3
Miss Dod—
In	6	6	5	4	5	6	6	4

By a singular coincidence it was Miss Mackay who met Miss Rhoda Adair last October over the same course in the first match play of the invitation tournament. On that occasion she was 1 down to the Irish expert.

Hardly less surprising than Miss Dod's defeat was the victory of Mrs. E. S. Sanford of Orange over Miss Harriett Curtis of Essex county. The latter stood 4 up at the turn, but Mrs. Sanford gradually drew upon her opponent and the match was all square at the eighteenth hole. Mrs. Sanford won the extra hole by 5 to 6.

Miss L. Vanderhoef, who, with Miss Curtis and Miss Dod, has tied for the best score of the stroke play, was the only one who survived today's struggle.

Miss F. C. Griscom, the only former champion in the tournament, won her match by default. Margaret Curtis of Essex county was responsible for a grand cut Journey of 43 in her match with Miss R. Bagley, which is a record for the course.

The survivors for today's match play round are made up of eight golfers hailing from the Boston district, three each from Philadelphia and New York and two from Chicago.

HOT CHARGES ARE MADE BY LARKIN

Controller Tells Court Bond Ordinance Was Passed by Corruption and Fraud.

CLAIMS MEASURE IS ILLEGAL

The charge of fraud and corruption in connection with the passage of the ordinance authorizing the bond issue of $5,000,000 for filtration is boldly made by Controller Larkin in his answer to the petition of Mayor Hays for a mandamus to compel the controller to advertise and sell the bonds. The controller's answer was filed yesterday afternoon in common pleas court No. 2. The controller had been given 10 days in which to file his answer, which expired this morning at 10 o'clock.

The court will fix a day for hearing arguments, and the controller hopes to get a jury trial to hear evidence to substantiate the charges of fraud and corruption which he makes. At the several sessions of select council, when the bond ordinance was passed through the various readings, it was necessary for the administration lobbyists to secure a new member every session to vote for the bill, and the controller claims he can prove that these changes were made by corrupt solicitation.

In talking of his answer yesterday the controller referred to one councilman who was taken into the mayor's office, and the door kept locked while he was there in conference with one of the Citizens leaders. The change in this member's vote gave the administration a majority at that session for the bond ordinance.

Councilmen May Testify.

The controller claims to have obtained important evidence in reference to this incident and also in connection with other councilmen whose actions at the time of the passage of the bond ordinance was regarded as suspicious.

The controller is said to have been quietly gathering evidence since the passage of the bond ordinance, and it is stated that several councilmen are also ready to go on the stand and give damaging evidence. Mr. Larkin declares that he is able to prove all his assertions.

Besides the charge of fraud and corruption, the controller avers that the bond ordinance was passed illegally and in violation of the rules of councils; that the finance committee has no executive powers and, therefore, cannot join with the controller in the issue of bonds, and that the controller is not subject to orders from the finance committee; that the bond ordinance provides that the bonds shall be redeemed every five years, whereas there is a section in the new charter act that states the bonds shall be redeemed every year; that this interest rate was made 4 per cent instead of 3½ per cent, so that the bonds would bring in a large premium, thus increasing the money received from the bonds in excess of the amount the people intended to raise; that it is unreasonable to issue these bonds now when there is $2,200,000 available for the work from the former bond issue, and that the effort to issue them now is not in good faith, but to personally benefit certain parties.

Controller Charges Fraud.

The controller's answer, in substance, follows:

Larkin claims the electors were not asked to vote on the manner in which the bonds were to be disposed and they merely gave consent at the election to increase the indebtedness of the city to an "amount not exceeding $5,000,000." He claims that without the votes secured by corrupt methods the ordinance would not have been passed, as follows in his second paragraph:

"I am informed that the rules of councils were not complied with in the action on the said alleged ordinance, while the same was pending in councils; corrupt solicitation of members was practiced and that members were induced to vote in favor thereof by alleged and corrupt practices and solicitation, and by the offer of illegal and corrupt considerations; and that without votes so secured, the majority required by law for the passage of said alleged ordinance could not have been obtained."

He denies that the ordinance directed without qualification that bonds to the aggregate amount of $5,000,000 be issued and sold at once as stated in the petition, and continues: "I am informed that while the alleged ordinance was pending before councils and continuously to the present time, bonds of the city bearing interest at the rate of 3½ per cent, and possibly bonds bearing a less rate of interest, could be sold at par or at a premium; that this fact was well known by the members of councils while said alleged ordinance was pending before them, and by the mayor of the city when he approved the same; and the said councils and mayor willfully and with the unlawful purpose of increasing the debt beyond the amount to which the electors had given their consent, fixed the rate of interest on said bonds at 4 per cent; the said finance committee, with the same knowledge and with the same purpose, passed the resolution referred to in relator's petition, directing the city controller to advertise for and sell bonds to the amount of $5,000,000, bearing interest at 4 per cent and maturing at the respective dates mentioned in said alleged ordinance."

Reiterates Low-Interest Argument.

Larkin reiterates that the bonds could have been sold at par or more with the interest fixed at 3½ per cent, and adds that it was fixed at 4 per cent with the willful and illegal purpose of increasing the city's liability to the amount of the premium expected to be realized in excess of the amount to which the electors had given their consent.

He sets forth that the controller has been advised that the provision in the alleged ordinance that "said bonds shall be sold by the city controller under the direction of the finance committee" is illegal, and that, even if the ordinance had been passed, the finance committee had no power to control or direct the controller.

The controller then denies that he tried to hinder matters and claims that every action taken was honest and with the purpose of improving the water supply, as the people voted for a sand filtration plant. He alleged that when he refused to advertise for bids, the city had in the treasury $2,200,000, pledged to no other purpose than the one for which it was named, bearing 4 per cent in the city depositories, and that the interest has only been paid at 2 per cent, the city thereby losing $44,000 since 1900, when the deposits were made. He alleges the plans for the establishment of the plant have never been completed and that no contracts can be let until this is done by the finance committee and the plans submitted to and approved by councils.

The controller further says that it will take a long time to secure bids and that the plant cannot be erected under three years. The plant of the size proposed, he says, can be erected for $3,000,000 and that a large profit will then be made by the contractor.

Alleges Fraud on the City.

With $2,200,000 in the treasury, to raise $5,000,000 for the same purpose, not knowing that it will be needed, is a willful breach of trust and a fraud on the city, the controller says, and then he adds:

"I am informed and believe and expect to be able to prove that the effort to issue and sell said bonds at the present time is not in good faith, for the interest of the city or to promote the purpose for which the electors of the city consented to an increase of the debt of the city; but for a corrupt purpose to benefit certain parties whose influence has been used to secure the said action."

He claims to be advised by counsel that the city is not authorized to issue bonds in the form and manner proposed by the finance committee, and quotes Article 2 of the charter act as proof of the point. He says the alleged ordinance levies an annual tax of $166,869.66 for the payment of the principal debt that the bonds to be issued so that that amount will mature each year, reserving enough of the bonds for the uninvested balance now in the sinking fund. He claims that to issue the bonds in the form proposed and sell the whole without reserving a portion for the sinking fund would be a violation of the law.

Larkin claims there is now in the sinking fund $288,035.56 available for investment in any new bonds issued by the city, and that at the present time the appropriations to the sinking fund and the earnings each year exceed $1,000,000, which amount will be increased as new bonds are issued, and a large part of it should be invested in any new issue of bonds. He claims that if the bonds were issued from time to time as required to meet the cost of the proposed improvements, the balances in the sinking fund would and would, under the law, be invested in the bonds, thereby making a saving to the city, and that the issuing of the bonds at one time as proposed will prevent this to the serious loss and injury to the city.

Women Gather in Syria Temple.

Syria temple, the Masonic building in Washington street, was invaded yesterday afternoon by several hundred women. The Wimodausis club, with its 365 members and their guests, gathered in the ceremonial room, later assemblying in the banquet room, where refreshments were served. It was the Wimodausis club's president's day and its guests included the president of the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women, Miss Kate Cassatt MacKnight, and the presidents of the other women's clubs in the city. In her address Miss MacKnight set before the club women the characteristic loyalty and fealty of the Masons, and appealed to the members of the Wimodausis club, which is composed of the wives, mothers, daughters and sisters of the Masons, and to other club women for the same strong support in the work of furthering the work of social and moral betterment of women and children from one end of the state to the other. Miss MacKnight spoke particularly of the need of helping the small girls and boys who are employed at night. In the ceremonial room the reports of the delegates from the Wimodausis club to the biennial meeting of the General Federation of Women's clubs in St. Louis last spring, made their reports. The president, Mrs. William J. Askin, spoke of the business sessions of the federation; Mrs. Charles R. Dallas of the resolutions presented; Mrs. Sophie S. Miller of the social features of the meeting, and Miss Clara Reese of those social affairs which were given within the grounds of the exposition for the visiting club women. The reports were interspersed with music by Mrs. Edwin Miller. After the formal program the women adjourned to the banquet room, where refreshments were served at small tables. Mrs. William J. Askin, the president of the Wimodausis club, presided and made the address of welcome. At her right sat Miss Kate C. MacKnight, the president of the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women. Clubs Sending No Delegates.

Several of the women's clubs in Allegheny county, members of the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women, will send no delegates to Lancaster next week. At its meeting on Monday the Tourist club decided to send no delegate this year, the Lawrenceville New Century club will not have a representative in Lancaster, the Woman's club of Oakmont has appointed no delegate, nor has the Woman's club of Homestead. There are others among the suburban clubs which will not be represented among them being the Athene club of Charleroi. On the other hand, the Sewickley Woman's club this year for the first time will send delegates to the State Federation, having appointed Mrs. Theodore W. Nevin, Miss Anne Nevin and Mrs. George P. Rose. Miss Lucy Bittinger is also going.

Duff gave a short talk on "The Arts and Crafts of Japan," Mrs. O. L. Blachly talking of the folklore and nursery rhymes. Mrs. Henry Carpenter read an article on the "Liberty of Japan." The music was rendered by Miss Ewing. The delegates of the Wilkinsburg Woman's club to the State Federation in Lancaster next week will be Mrs. William E. Evans, Mrs. John A. Newell and Mrs. Samuel R. Wills.

The Monday club of Carnegie met at the home of Mrs. Robert Justus in Justus avenue, this week. Husler read a paper on "Sir Walter Raleigh," Mrs. George Gow talked on "Bacon, Philosopher and Essayist," while Mrs. Frank Bingham read a paper on "Queen Elizabeth." Current events were discussed by the leader, Mrs. John Henry. The music was by a mandolin and guitar quartet, consisting of Miss Sara Shoderuss, Miss Lillian Smith, Miss Mildred Carnahan and Miss Frances Martin. The hostess was assisted during the social hour by Mrs. Tweed, Mrs. Kerr, Miss Justus and Miss Hancock.

Laughlin, pastor of the Oakdale Presbyterian church, at the home of the bride. PRETTY CHURCH WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Garling.

Miss Lottie Lillian Jahn, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frederick Jahn, of Alder street, and John Paul Garling were married last evening in the Emory Methodist Episcopal church at 7:30 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Arthur D. Mink, and the bride had as her attendants Mrs. Harry G. Porterfield, matron of honor, and two cousins, Miss Georgia Splane and Miss Florence Gertrude Moreland, with Miss Norma Pritchard, Miss Gerace Dickinson and Mrs. Harry Feely, bridesmaids. Harry G. Porterfield was best man and the ushers included Charles Elmore Jahn, Clarence Leonard Jahn, Dr. Edwin A. Waugaman, Charles Billings Clarke, William Ralph Hughes and Harry McAllister Feely. An organ recital preceded the ceremony, and at the entrance of the bride the wedding march was sung by Miss Callie O'Neil, Mrs. Irwin Davis, Frank Neely and Norman Hassler, with Mrs. Hassler as organist. The bride is a well-known soprano soloist and occupied that position in the Wellesly Presbyterian church this summer. Her gown was of white crepe de angelus trimmed with imported lace. Orange blossoms fastened her veil and she carried roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Porterfield was gowned in pale green crepe and carried white roses. Princesse gowns of white point d'esprit were worn by the bridesmaids who carried clusters of maidenhair fern. White chrysanthemums and roses with quantities of palms and ferns were used to decorate the church and also the house where the wedding supper was served. After their wedding trip Mr. Garling and his bride will be at home in Alder street, receiving their friends after November 15.

Fifty of the male guests, in full evening dress and wearing silk hats, escorted the bride and bridegroom to the East Liberty depot. The marchers carried red lights and were followed by a brass band and 20 carriages. From every carriage window blazed red fire, while songs and shouts from the marchers nearly drowned the efforts of the musicians.

The wedding of Miss Elizabeth Foster Bell, daughter of John A. Bell, vice president of the Colonial Trust Company, to Dr. Karl Stanley Simpson of Carnegie will be solemnized at 6 o'clock this evening at the residence of the bride's parents in Washington avenue, Carnegie. The Rev. W. R. Wilson of the First United Presbyterian church, assisted by the Rev. J. M. Duff of the First Presbyterian church, will officiate. Miss Tillie Bell, a sister of the bride, will be maid of honor, and Mansfield B. Christy best man. The wedding will be followed by a reception, for which 300 invitations have been issued. Dr. Simpson is a son of Mrs. W. J. Simpson of Carnegie and is a resident physician at the Homeopathic hospital, Pittsburgh.

DOG BITE DEVELOPS DEATH.

Farmer's Son Died of Rabies Four Months After Being Bitten.

As a result of a dog bite received four months ago, Frank Drake, Jr., aged 19, of Pattersons Mills, Washington county, suffered from hydrophobia in its most acute form, and death alone relieved him yesterday afternoon.

Young Drake was bitten on the wrist by a shepherd dog, the property of his father. The bite did not draw blood nor was there any evidence that the skin had been broken. Last Saturday morning, while in apparent good health, he sought a drink of water, and upon it touching his lips he became violent. An effort was made to take him to the railroad station, four miles away, for the purpose of bringing him to this city for treatment, but he became so violent on the roadway that he was returned to his home.

The dog has not as yet shown any signs of the disease, and is chained up awaiting developments.

FINE SOUVENIRS FOR M. & M. TRIP

Attractive Gold Badge Will Be Worn by Trade Boomers on Ohio Tour.

TWO NEW SIGHTSEEING CARS

The finest official badge that ever represented the prestige of Pittsburgh will be worn by the trade boomers of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' association on their tour through Ohio next week. The badge is designed after the seal of the corporation of Pittsburgh, and will be suspended from a horizontal bar of gold. The seal will be built up of gold and black enamel, combining the colors of Pittsburgh with the familiar insignia. It will be worn by all the members of the association and their guests, and will be given to a few distinguished persons among the out-of-town entertainment committees as a souvenir of the excursion.

The badges were ordered early this week and will be ready for distribution on Saturday. Beside these, a score of the firms represented will have souvenirs appropriate to the occasion, and altogether the merchants in the Ohio towns to be visited will not forget the memorable journey which will do honor to their trades and industries.

Manager James W. Wardrop yesterday received a letter from Charles H. Towson, secretary of the board of trade of Lancaster, O., saying that extensive preparations were being made by the citizens of that town for the entertainment of the Pittsburgh excursionists. The stop will be made at Lancaster on Wednesday night, and the late hours of the afternoon will be spent at the Boys' Industrial home near Lancaster. Returning to the town in the evening, the guests will be entertained at the Lancaster Athletic club, where a reception will be held. Luncheon will be served at the local Elks' club.

The Coshocton (O.) board of trade yesterday appointed a committee of Manufacturers and merchants to receive the excursion when it arrives in Coshocton next Tuesday. The visitors will be met with automobiles and taken over the city and otherwise entertained. Attorney W. A. Himebaugh, president of the board of trade, has charge of the arrangements.

It was announced yesterday that the Pittsburgh Railways Company had given a contract for the building of two special trolley cars for the "Seeing Greater Pittsburgh" service inaugurated through the efforts of the association several weeks ago. The new equipment will be the latest type of the trolley observation cars built for operation at any time of the year, giving passengers during inclement weather the same opportunity to see the sights as those who patronize summer cars.

THE THREE RIVERS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 1.—(Special.)—The stage of the river at 8 o'clock this evening was 4.6 feet and stationary. Weather cloudy and cooler. Today's departures were: Kate Mac, Portsmouth; Levi J. Workum, Madison and Courier, Louisville. The heavy rains of last night served to swell the rivers here some, and about four inches of water was added to the marks. The rain was only local, however, and the local forecaster says that the river will be falling again today if no more rain comes. Word was received here today that Capt. J. W. Thomas, a veteran river man of Madison, Ind., had died. He was a very old man and when the river was in its halcyon days accumulated a vast fortune. He has lived in retirement for many years. Capt. Oscar Barrett arrived home from an extended business trip in the valley.

LOUISVILLE—River rising. In canal, 2.4; on falls, 2; below locks, 3.3. Clear and pleasant.

STEUBENVILLE—River two feet two inches and falling. Weather cloudy and warm.

OIL CITY—River one foot three inches and rising. Weather cloudy and cool.

GREENSBORO—River six feet four inches and stationary. Weather cloudy and warm. Woodward down Wednesday and Columbia up.

WARREN—River one foot. Weather cloudy and cool.

MORGANTOWN—River six feet and stationary. Weather clear and warm.

GALLIPOLIS—River two feet nine inches and falling slowly. Weather clear and cool.

PT. PLEASANT—River one foot seven inches and stationary. Weather cloudy and cool.

RIVER MEN GETTING READY.

Hope for a Slight Rise to Enable Them to Attend the Merrill Dam Celebration.

The stage of water at Davis Island dam at 8 o'clock last night was 2.8 feet and the river was stationary.

Preparations for an active campaign when the river opens are under way by the Monongahela River Company, the Clyde Company and several several other companies which handle the coal from out of the Monongahela river, as well as the companies which take care of passengers and general freight to points below.

Tomorrow the shaft will be placed on the Sprague and the boat will soon be ready for work. Rivermen look upon the Sprague as one of the problems of river navigation yet to be worked out, but think she will prove one of the greatest boats that ever traveled the local streams.

The steamer Clyde is at the Pearson Manufacturing Company's boiler shop getting her boilers overhauled preparatory to engaging in the fall and winter campaign. Everything about the Clyde is being put in good shape, and when she comes out again she will be ready for all kinds of hard service.

The hull of the old Frisbee has been sold by the River Coal Company to the Hulings. The Hulings also bought the Clifton of the coal company some time ago. The machinery had been removed from the Frisbee and the new owners will fit her up for their work of river construction.

The Monday night gave the rivermen hopes that a rise would be here by Saturday sufficient to take their boats to the Merrill dam celebration. If the stage of water hoped for should materialize there will be a great river parade that day. All arrangements have been completed and a great day is anticipated. If the water permits, several excursion boats will be run from here. If not, the railroads will carry the crowds going to the celebration.

The Keystone State has come off the ways at Cincinnati, having been completely overhauled and repainted. There was some talk of a new boat to take the place of the Keystone, but this idea is said to have been abandoned for the present.

Coal is being brought down from the upper pools and stored in the harbor to await a rise.

The L. C. Woodward was the Morgantown boat yesterday.

STOCKS REACTED EARLY, BUT CLOSED HIGHER

U. S. Steel Bonds Reached the Highest Price for More Than a Year—Call Loans Declined. Local Market Dull and Irregular.

By JOHN O. EAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The New York stock market opened strong yesterday, but there was a reaction in the early hour, due to selling by western houses to take profits. The government crop report was so much better than expected that the traders evidently thought there would be an increase in buying orders, especially for the corn-carriers, and that this buying would furnish the opportunity for taking profits on stocks bought at lower prices. Foreigners were operating on both sides of the market, buying Steel preferred and Southern Pacific, and selling some of the railroad stocks. The reaction, however, did not go far. Trading became less active and offerings of stock lighter. The brief period of hesitation was followed by renewed strength all along the line, and some new high prices on this movement were recorded. Skeptics thought that the taking up and advancing of such stocks as St. Paul, Union Pacific and Steel preferred merely represented manipulation for the purpose of preventing the reaction from making progress. Still, there was room for bullish argument on the grangers. In the great corn states there was an actual improvement in the condition of the grain during September, and everyone is willing to admit that since the government's figures were compiled there has been no lost ground. On the contrary, conditions have improved, if anything, and a yield only second to the largest on record is indicated. Further confirmation of improved conditions was the weakness in both wheat and corn in the Chicago market.

Steel preferred opened higher at 77, reacted to 76¾, and then recovered to 77⅝, the previous high point of the year. The sinking fund bonds advanced to 85, the highest for more than a year, and closed near the best. Amalgamated Copper advanced a fraction to 65¾, which is the highest of the year, and the minor iron and steel issues were exceptionally higher. Among inactive industrials, U. S. Leather common advanced to 10½ and U. S. Rubber common to 25½.

The thing which turned the railroad list upward was the buying of St. Paul and Union Pacific. The former advanced to 168½ and closed at a net gain for the day of 1¼ per cent. Union Pacific reached 105, the highest of the year, and closed ⅛ higher for the day. Atchison also made a new record by advancing to 84⅛. The Gould issues were strong in the early dealings, but the loss in the important stocks to lose their gains in the final dealings. The strength in some of the high-class investment stocks like New York Central, which rose to 132, the highest of the year, helped to restore confidence in the continuation of the bull market. The Pennsylvania group was strong and closed at small net gains. Reading sold off to 71⅛ early in the session, but recovered all the loss, reaching 72⅝ late in the afternoon. The market closed firm at or near the highest prices for the day. The volume of transactions was slightly larger than on Monday.

Time loan rates covering the remainder of the year were firmer, and call loans advanced to 2¼ per cent. In the afternoon, however, call loans declined to 1¾ per cent, and the final quotation was 2 per cent. It was thought of sufficient significance to bulletin the fact that the National City bank came into the market and offered call loans at 2 per cent, which checked the rising tendency. This bank, it is almost needless to say, is identified with the interests which are credited with conducting the present bull market in stocks.

It was quite significant of the difference between sentiment now and a year ago that Wall street paid no attention to the advance in discounts by the Imperial Bank of Germany, which raised its rate from 4 to 5 per cent. This advance, taken in connection with the weekly statement published on Saturday, would have caused nearly $1,000,000 despite a reduction in loans of more than $23,000,000 and a decrease in notes in circulation of more than $20,000,000 during the week.

On the Pittsburgh stock exchange trading was dull and the tone of the market irregular. Crucible Steel opened strong and higher at 43, but later in the session sold off at 41¾, without the development of any cause for the weakness. The common stock was dull and unchanged at 6⅞. U. S. Steel issues, on the other hand, held strong and advanced with the movement in the east. Just before the close of the market Pittsburgh Coal preferred developed considerable strength, and on light transactions advanced to 68¼, closing at that price bid. The common remained dull and unchanged at 16½. Small lots of Westinghouse Electric first preferred sold at 91 and 92, and regular lots were quoted at 90 bid. The second preferred was fairly active within the narrow range of 82¾ and 83¼, closing at 82¾ bid. There was an entire subsidence of activity in the natural gas stocks, only 30 shares Manufacturers Light and Heat changing hands all day at 39. Pittsburgh Plate Glass sold at 117, an advance of $2 a share over the last previous sale. The market lacked snap all day, there was no news to influence trading, and the close was dull but steady.

The Wool Market.

BOSTON, Oct. 11.—Increasing strength is shown in the local wool market from week to week. Recently there had been a heavy demand for almost all grades of wool, a condition of affairs which if it continues will mark the season as unique. Territory grades occupy a firm position and are freely sold. Unified wools show activity, but foreign grades are quiet. The price of domestic wools in this market as based on actual sales is about as follows: Ohio and Pennsylvania, XX and above, 34@35c; X, 30@31c; No. 1, 33@34c; No. 2, 30@31c; fine unwashed, 24@25c; delaine and blood unwashed, 28@29; unwashed delaine, 26@27c; fine unwashed delaine, 25½@26c. BOSTON, Oct. 11.—Allouez and Atlantic were both in good demand and looked well at the close. New York buying again appeared in Isle Royale and Utah, and higher prices are predicted for both. Calumet & Hecla was a particular favorite, selling down to 540 at the opening on an attempt to sell 100 shares. As soon as this stock was out of the way, the market rose quickly to 560. Copper Range held its advance of yesterday and is being talked for higher prices.

Drygoods.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The drygoods market shows signs of improvement and although buyers are not inclined to order for future wants the repeated assertions of commission agents regarding the depletion of stocks, the curtailment of production and the effect of these factors upon the market are beginning to have their weight with the buying trade.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

A Pittsburgher who returned from New York yesterday was commenting upon the government crop figures. He said the impression prevailed in Wall street that an influential crowd of railroad financiers who had made a nice turn on the long side of wheat, and who had then taken up corn for a "flyer" on the bull side, gauged their recent low estimates of yield to suit their speculative position on the market. When it was suggested that the gentlemen were too eminent to indulge in pessimism merely to save a margin on a speculative turn on the long side of wheat, and so fully drop and remarked that it would not be the first time such tactics were used by men of standing in the street. The government report was certainly gratifying as to the indicated yield of corn, which was about 500,000,000 bushels above some of the expert estimates published late last month. Figures on the acreage and condition of the various crops in the October official report, the indicated harvest for 1904 compares with the actual harvest of 4903 as follows:

The event of the day in the world's financial markets was the advance from 4 to 5 per cent in the discount rate of the Imperial Bank of Germany after having maintained the former rate since June, 1903. Foreign exchange hardened in response and the continental exchanges moved against London, where discounts hardened and the price of gold was advanced. The action of the German bank is not clearly understood and is surmises that another Russian loan is being prepared for. Financial authorities in London have pointed out that a relaxation of the money rate there would cause withdrawal of large French credits placed there and their transfer to Berlin, or in the event of higher money rates here, to New York. Since the Panama canal payment, Paris money supplies have been abundant and large amounts have been placed not only in London but in Germany as well. The sharp advance in the German bank's discount rate may be intended to hold French credits in that market and to invite further commitments.

At a special meeting of the stockholders of the Pittsburgh Oil and Gas Company yesterday afternoon 48,795 shares out of a total of 60,000 shares voted for the proposition to issue $2,600,000 bonds. There was no vote in the negative. The bonds will be a collateral trust gold bond bearing 6 per cent and will be redeemable on and after October 1, 1907, at the rate of $200,000 a year. Of the total issue, $1,200,000 is reserved to retire the present issue of like amount and the remainder will be used to liquidate floating debt and for other corporate purposes. It is stated that the company owns outright or controls by lease 211,000 acres of oil and gas lands, and that it has approximately 25,000 consumers of natural gas in Ohio and Indiana. For the July quarter the gross earnings were $443,000. The company is paying dividends at the rate of 8 per cent per annum on its $6,000,000 capital stock.

Pittsburgh stock exchange seats were quoted yesterday for the first time in several weeks at $6,000 bid, $10,000 asked. The last regular sale was at $7,000, but four months ago a seat was sold for account at $6,500.

Pittsburgh Plate Glass sold at 117, an advance of 2 per cent, and closed at 116¾ bid.

River Coal bonds were a shade firmer at 108 bid.

Hidalgo Mining Company was quoted at 6 bid, none asked, the first public quotations for a long time.

An initial public sale of Pittsburgh Trolley Pole stock was recorded yesterday, 25 shares changing hands at 115. The par value is $100 a share.

West Side Belt bonds were quoted at 105½ bid.

The regular quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent on Potter Trust is payable October 15 to stock of record October 10.

The sale of United States Steel sinking fund 5s at 85 is the highest price for more than a year. The lowest price this year was 65⅜ in January. This range in 1903 was 87⅝ in June and 65 in November.

The earnings of the Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Greensburg railway for September were $16,220 48, an increase of $3,679 76, or 29.3 per cent over September, 1903. For nine months the earnings were $123,435 73, an increase of $31,138 11, or 33.7 per cent.

President Baer was able to show an increase in the Reading Company's coal traffic of this year of 67 per cent over that of 1897, an increase of 83 per cent in merchandise traffic and an increase of 46 per cent in the passenger traffic. The gross profits earned by the three companies increased from $645,675 in 1897 to $10,658,850 in 1904, and the total freight carried increased from 19,987,000 tons to 36,047,000 tons. Expenditures for betterments were $1,224,800 in 1897 and $3,274,648 in 1904, while the surplus after betterments, taxes and sinking fund, was $7,283,682 this year, against a deficit of $597,134 in 1897.

The city of Boston has completed its borrowings for the current year in anticipation of taxes. Total borrowings this year were $6,000,000, against $5,500,000 last year. The loans were placed with various banks and banking houses. The rate at which the loans were made were as follows: 4 per cent in March, 3½ per cent in May, 3¾ per cent in June and 2½ per cent in August. Three million dollars of the loan was put out in August.

In New York United States government old 4s advanced ⅛ per cent on call.

Erie stocks sold off slightly on the publication of the annual report, showing a falling off in total earnings of $500,250.

"There is no doubt that Standard Oil interests have the whole financial situation in better control than ever before. They control the money market, they can place large orders for steel rails at any moment they see fit, and no one has any stocks to sell them. The spreading of wild stories by speculative cliques, however, will do the market more harm than good. Gates will not be allowed to take the market out of their hands. They believe in higher prices next year, and much higher prices. They believe that we shall have many 4,000,000-share days during 1905, and they are predicting to their closest friends that the advance which will start in the stock market after the election will be one of the pronounced that Wall street has seen in four years. The predictions are fulfilled the prices which were ruling on August 1 will not be touched again until the next great business depression, which they think is several years off."—Adams, in Philadelphia News Bureau.

"The reason why the clearing house statement is so often mysterious is not because it is 'doctored,' or because the reports of the banks are wrong. It is because the statement is not explicit and detailed enough. For instance, the item of 'deposits' includes not only deposits due individual depositors, but amounts due trust companies and banks. The item 'loans' includes not only the sums loaned to borrowers, but the value of the securities owned by the banks. Suppose one not aware of this fact should desire to ascertain the amount of the loans of the leading banks of this city and should go to the clearing house statement and to the reports made to the controller of the currency. He would be puzzled by the following differences. Loans and discounts—

	Clear. house Report to Compt. Sept. 3.	Compt. Sept. 9.
National City	$184,000,000	$150,460,000
Commerce	172,091,800	145,118,900
First	105,757,800	93,914,300
Totals	$459,849,600	$389,493,200

"Only by closer inspection of the reports to the comptroller would he discover the reason for this extraordinary discrepancy. Thus the First Nations' owns about $50,000,000 of securities carried as 'loans,' the National City over $30,000,000, and so on through the list of banks. We mention these simply because they are the most prominent. Now the obvious question presents itself. Why is it that the clearing house in its statements permits this bookkeeping fiction to continue from week to week? Of course, in a certain sense, investments in bonds are 'loans' to the companies issuing the bonds, but this is a class of loans that should be rated separately from loans of money made on notes or securities. The comptroller of the currency insists that the 'loan' classification be drawn in the reports made to him. Why not the clearing house?"—Wall Street Journal.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at unchanged prices on all positions except September, which was 5 points lower. European markets were steady, and after the opening here the market showed a pretty good undertone on a moderate demand from scattering sources. But after selling 5 points net higher on some positions the market was dull and heavy at the close by a revival of liquidation, and closed easy at a net decline of 5@10 points. Sales were reported of about 60,000 bags, including December at 6.80@6.85c, January at 6.90c, February at 7.05c, March at 7.05@7.15c, April at 7.25c, May at 7.25@7.35c, July at 7.45@7.50c and September at 5.75@7.65c. COFFEE SHOWS SIGN OF LIFE IN LOCAL MARKET

Grocery Lines Are Experiencing Lively Trade, but Produce Is Uninteresting.

There is a slight prospect of a movement in coffees, but aside from this the market was absolutely featureless yesterday. One of the popular brands of package coffee, which has always sold for a half cent to a cent lower than others, has been moved up in conformity with its rivals. Whether this means a general move all along the line or just a lift on the part of the company putting up that one kind, is not yet known.

Along the street everything was extremely quiet yesterday. The produce and commission men scarcely had enough to do to keep them busy. They blame all their trouble on warm weather, and say as soon as it gets cold and stays that way they will be doing a rushing business. The wholesale grocers on the other hand, announce an ever-increasing demand for goods and say business is vastly better than it was a month ago and growing better every day. Prices are firm in everything, and no breaks are looked for unless it should be in flour, which is expected to move up.

The first buckwheat of the season is now beginning to come in, and it is of excellent quality. Maple syrup was a short crop this year as well as last, and the lover of buckwheat cakes and maple syrup will have to content himself with some of the manufactured products in the syrup line, all of which are plentiful and most of them good and wholesome. The buckwheat crop this year was a fairly good one and there are no high prices in sight for the flour.

The great lot of grapes which were in the market Monday are rapidly passing off. So also are the apples. Prices have held firm and there is no indication of a drop at present. Winter apples are already being called for, but they will not be on the market for a couple of weeks yet. The crop will not be extra large, as heavy wind storms have done much to lighten the trees of their burden of fruit.

Receipts of fruit and produce yesterday were as follows: Apples, 6, making 84; cabbage, 2, making 34; grapes, 8, making 58; pears, 1, making 42; potatoes, 2, making 56; miscellaneous, 1, making 14.

HAY AND GRAIN.

RECEIPTS.

Receipts of hay, grain and feed at the railroad yards yesterday were as follows: Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 2 cars hay; Baltimore & Ohio, 17 cars hay, 5 cars oats; Pennsylvania lines, 20 cars hay, 9 cars oats, 3 cars rye, 1 car straw.

The hay and grain market holds firm in the face of heavy receipts of hay and fairly heavy supplies of grain and feed. The best grades of hay find plenty of buyers at full quotations. Corn is still a little scarce and good prices are realized right along. Wheat is a commodity that cannot be had in Pittsburgh, but the country millers have decided upon a figure of $1.10 and $1.11 a bushel for it. This is looked upon as satisfactory by the farmer who has a wagon load to dispose of at the mill.

The advance of discount and the lending rate to 6 per cent today, followed as usual by an advance to the same rates by the Saxon, Bavarian and other note-issuing banks, was directly the result of the unfavorable money situation and the shrinkage of the imperial gold stock, although $4,250,000 was imported from London during the last few days. Besides the banks' heavy advance to joint stock and private bankers for further gold purchases abroad.

WHEAT MARKET QUICKLY ACQUIRES NEW STRENGTH

Prices Higher in Close at Chicago Pit—Oats and Corn Lower.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—The government estimate of 551,000,000 bushels as the total yield of wheat for the United States had a weakening influence on speculative trading in the wheat pit at the opening. Initial quotations on December were ⅜@½c lower at $1 08@1 08⅛. May was down ½@⅝c to $1@1.00. At $1 08@1 08⅛. There was heavy liquidation of December, causing a rapid decline, the price dropping to $1 07⅜ within the first half hour. May weakened in sympathy to $1 07⅝. Other factors that contributed to the selling pressure were lower cables and continued liberal receipts in the northwest. Weather in the northwest also was reported favorable to the free movement of the crop. For a time the selling was quite general. Commission houses had numerous stop loss orders, the execution of which added to the weakness.

Later in the day the demand improved considerably, many traders apparently acquiring the impression that the market had been heavily oversold earlier in the session. Shorts covered freely. In consequence the market soon regained all the early loss. Light receipts at Kansas City with prospects of much smaller arrivals in the near future had a strengthening influence. Shortly before the close the market touched the highest point of the day, December selling at $1 08¾. May sold up to $1 09⅝. The market closed strong with December at $1 09 and May at $1 09⅝@1 09¾. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 165,500 bushels. The world's visible supply increased 9,138,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 1,462,000 bushels, compared with 1,692,300 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 1,251 cars, against 1,242 cars last week, and 971 cars a year ago.

Early in the day the corn market was weak as a result of profit-taking consequent to a bearish government crop report. Later, however, a firmer feeling developed an active covering by shorts. The late market was helped by the small primary receipts and by a reported decrease in the world's visible supply of nearly 2,500,000 bushels. December opened unchanged to ⅛c lower, at 47⅝@48c, sold between 47½c and 48¼c, and closed at 48⅛@48¼c. Local receipts were 178 cars, with four of contract grade.

The principal factor in the oats market was an exceedingly bearish estimate on the total yield shown by the government crop report. Heavy liquidation characterized trading. At one time prices were off fully a cent from last night's closing figures, but some recovery was made on buying by shorts. After opening ¼@⅜c lower, at 29⅛@29¼c, December ranged between 28⅝@28⅞c and 29½c, and closed at 29¼c. Local receipts were 275 cars.

Provisions were weak early in the day as a result of heavy selling of January pork. The market became steadier later on fair support from packers. The weakness of corn was a depressing influence at the opening. Shorts were good buyers late in the day. At the close January pork and lard were unchanged at $12 75 and $7 40 respectively. Ribs were off 2½c at $6 05. Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 93 cars; corn, 84 cars; oats, 114 cars; hogs, 21,000 head.

WILL CONTESTS ARE TO FOLLOW

Two Petitions Alleging Testamentary Incapacity Filed in Orphans Court.

CLARION POOR FARM CASE UP

Petitions filed in orphans court on which citations were awarded promise two will contests, in the estate of Charles Tausold of Monessen, Gabrille Tausold Moffet and Lydia Tausold Dible have filed a petition asking that the instrument purporting to be the last will of the decedent be set aside and declared invalid. The estate is estimated to be worth about $18,000, and was left in equal parts to Valentine Tausold, a son, and Helen M., a daughter. The petitioners are daughters, and with another daughter were left $5 each. They allege the decedent lacked testamentary capacity and that he was influenced at the time the alleged will was made. It is also declared he made another will which was delivered to Samuel Fields.

In the estate of Franz Kunz, late of Reserve township, Mary E. Mathews, a granddaughter, begins the contest. The estate was divided into seven parts to go to relatives. The petitioner was left a legacy of $300. It is claimed the decedent was in feeble health and not in condition to draw up a will.

In the estate of John Richards, the contest has been certified to court of common pleas No. 3, to have a jury determine the facts. All the estate was left to the widow. Two nieces began the proceedings, alleging lack of testamentary capacity.

Enters an All-Around Denial.

In the suit of W. J. Weixel against J. H. McGhie, the defendant has filed an affidavit of defense. He says his name is L. J. McGhie and he denies ever entering into any contract by which he was to pay the plaintiff a commission for securing him a loan on certain property. He denies having any property in Allegheny, and he also denies that he contemplated securing a loan. He says the suit is entered to force money out of him.

James Butler, for holding up and robbing William Kustus in Twenty-sixth street and stealing $50, was sentenced to serve six months in the workhouse.

Justus Mulart filed a bill in equity against Herbert L. Cox and others to restrain Cox from conveying one-half interest in property bought by him and his father, Benjamin F. Cox, deceased, or from encumbering the same. Lack of consideration and fraud for the purpose of defrauding creditors are alleged in the bill.

Mamie Henderson began habeas corpus proceedings to get out of the workhouse where she is serving a 90-day term. She was charged with enticing a man into 653 Second avenue and robbing him of $38.

Noble Stroup began similar proceedings for releases. She was sent to the workhouse for 30 days on a charge of keeping a disorderly house.

A petition in involuntary bankruptcy was filed against Anthony L. Miller, a merchant of Uniontown. The petitioners, the Pittsburgh Stove and Range Company, the Logan-Gregg Hardware Company, and the John Dunlap Company, file claims amounting to $847 45. Miller is alleged to have committed an act in bankruptcy by allowing a judgment to be secured against him in the Westmoreland county courts.

A voluntary petition was filed by William F. and Charles H. Sands, trading as the North Side Mantel and Tile Company, of Allegheny. The firm's liabilities are given as $4,453 97 with assets of $225. On the individual petitions both men have $25 assets and no liabilities.

Clarion Poor Farm Again.

The trouble over the Clarion county poor farm was aired in the supreme court yesterday. The county wants a new poor farm, and the people voted to build one, but equity proceedings were begun to restrain the county commissioners from going on with the work. The litigation has been going on for two years and at every opportunity the commissioners would do a little new building until it is now under roof. In 1898 an election was held under the act of 1876, at which it was decided to erect a poor house. A farm was purchased and a contract for building to cost $26,650 was awarded in November, 1903. The present action was begun by P. H. Melvin who held that the special act of 1870 and the general act of 1895 had not been complied with. This action was dismissed by the Clarion county court and Melvin took an appeal. The case hinges on the multiplicity of the remaining in the creation of the new buildings and the provisions relative to the approval of plans by the county courts.

All the other cases heard yesterday were from Armstrong county. In one of them a Pittsburgh company is the appellant. Alfred T. Seitz of Freeport, had a policy in the Central Accident Insurance Company of Pittsburgh. On March 21, 1903, he was found dead in bed with a bullet hole in his right temple. The company refused payment on the policy, holding that Seitz' administrator must prove that death resulted from an accident. The administrator brought suit and on the trial proved that Seitz slept with a revolver under his pillow, that the revolver had been accidentally discharged before, and that Seitz was of a happy disposition and without cause for taking his own life. The jury decided in favor of the accident theory and brought in a verdict for $2,300 in favor of Seitz' estate. The insurance company then appealed.

Another Phase of Linton Litigation.

The long-continued Linton litigation is up as usual. This time it is a suit over the possession of a piece of land in Armstrong county for which Mrs. Phoebe R. E. Linton sued J. C. Moorhead, Eliza N. Meredith and W. B. Meredith to recover. The court below directed a verdict in favor of the defendants and Mrs. Linton appealed.

The other cases were: Harry E. Swetgert vs. Samuel Klingensmith and other appellants, an action for personal injuries received in a flour mill; Sarah Schreckengost and others, appellants vs. Daniel West, an action over the construction of a deed; E. N. Gillespie, for use, appellant vs. Simon Iseman, an action over a gas lease; Charles E. Harrington, appellant, vs. Hettie Stivason and others, an action in ejectment; Appeal of the Farmers' National Bank of Kittanning in the assignment of the Kittanning Electric Light, Heat and Power Company, insolvent, an action to decide the rights of stockholders in the distribution of the assets of the insolvent company.

The following executions were issued: John Wagner vs. Charles Heinen, $177 25; Armstrong Bros. vs. William Apel, $450; John Wagner vs. Charles Heinen et al., $63; B. H. Veskamps & Sons vs. Fred F. Elcks, $341 60; W. A. Orr vs. D. F. Moreland et al., $8 36; Homestead Brewing Company vs. John Kertesz, $1,800; same vs. same, $177 40.

TRIBUTE TO THE LATE HARRY WALKER

At a meeting of the directors of the Manchester Savings Bank and Trust Company, held on the 10th inst., the following resolution was adopted:

"It having pleased God in his infinite wisdom, to remove from our midst Mr. William Harry Walker, one of the members of our board, we desire to testify to the universal respect in which he was held, to the very high place he occupied in our affection and regard, and to the sincere sorrow his death has brought to us who were his business associates and friends.

Faithful, talented and honest, kindly of heart, industrious and courageous, these were his virtues, these the characteristics which brought him prominence and success in his chosen profession. Always a man of his word, no other bonds were necessary. For the unfortunate and needy, he ever had an open hand and a ready sympathy, proving to many of such a friend indeed. Thus, by his kindness did he widen the circle of those who now mourn his death.

We kindly pay him this last tribute, and bear testimony to the high character and good qualities which have endeared "Harry Walker" to his many acquaintances and friends; and desiring that the evidence of our regard for him and of our great sorrow at his death, be preserved.

It is therefore resolved, That the foregoing be spread upon the minutes of this company, that a copy be sent to the family of the deceased, and that this resolution be published in the local papers.

On behalf of the directors,

J. P. McKinney, President. A. H. Trimble, Vice President.

CLERGY OPPOSES THE REMARRIAGE

Majority Report at the Episcopal Convention Would Repeal Canon.

QUESTION UNDER DISCUSSION

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

BOSTON, Oct. 11.—A proposed change in the canons of the Episcopal church, whereby clergymen are forbidden to remarry any person who has been divorced, was discussed for two hours by the house of deputies at today's session of the Episcopal general convention.

The house of deputies was sitting as a committee of the whole, and the consideration of the subject, regarded as one of the most important to come before the present convention, will be taken up from time to time until the matter is finally disposed of. The present canon on marriage permits the re-marriage of the innocent persons in a divorce suit wherein infidelity is alleged. For some time there has been a strong sentiment in the church that the clergy should not remarry even the innocent person.

The committee on canons, of which the Rev. Dr. F. P. Davenport of Memphis, Tenn., is chairman, presented an amendment to the present canon, forbidding remarriage of any persons who have been divorced. A minority report, permitting the present canon to remain as it is, with the exception of an added provision for the presentation of court evidence when an applicant for remarriage appears before a clergyman, was submitted by the Rev. Dr. J. Lewis Parks of New York, and others.

The Rev. Dr. Parks, R. H. Battle of Raleigh, N. C., and the Rev. G. B. Van-waters of Portland, Ore., spoke in behalf of the minority report, while the majority report was advocated by the Rev. John Williams of Omaha, Neb.; E. P. Bailey of Chicago; the Rev. Samuel Ringgold of Knoxville, Tenn., and C. H. Stanley of Washington, D. C.

It is courting danger to stand under icy eaves. Not a few have learned this to their cost. Every winter injury and even death are reported as the result of this carelessness. But there is a far more popular way of courting danger. Every man or woman who neglects a cough is inviting sickness, and many a fatal sickness has its beginning in a slight cough.

The timely use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure the cough. Even when the cough is obstinate and there is hemorrhage with emaciation and weakness, "Golden Medical Discovery" always helps and almost always cures.

"I was troubled with a bad cold, which settled on my lungs and left me with a miserable cough," writes Mr. Joseph D. Burns, of 318 Huestis Street, Ithaca, New York. "I used two bottles of your 'Golden Medical Discovery,' after which my cough disappeared entirely. I cannot recommend your medicine too highly."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach, blood, and lungs. Substitution means a little more profit to the dealer but a loss to you.

ON THE SAFETY OF OVER-EATING.

The Rule of Choosing the Lesser of Two Evils Applies to the Way You Eat.

I want to know how a man is to know when he has had enough?

The Pilgrim Fathers, I believe, had a quaint saying to the effect that you should always rise from the table feeling as if you could eat some more.

But the question is, how much more?

Just when to stop?

That's the point.

The rule is wrong, because it's no rule at all.

It is inexact and unscientific.

It is likely to lead to the dangerous habit of eating too little.

And eating too little—or digesting too little, which amounts to the same thing—is the cause of nine-tenths of the diseases from which humanity suffers today.

What is disease?

It is simply uneven balance between waste and repair.

Some organ lacks strength to carry on the special work for which it was created.

Where shall it find the strength it lacks?

In drugs?

Ten thousand times, NO!

Better die than become a hopeless drug fiend.

No; in food.

"But," you say, "I eat a-plenty of good food every day!"

True, dear friend; but you don't digest it. And food, undigested, is mere poison.

So, to make food do you good, you must take Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

The great thing about Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is, that their action does not depend upon stimulative druggery.

They cannot create a habit.

They contain no ingredients to "pick-you up," "tone up your nervous system" or furnish whip energy, by calling out your vital reserve force.

They create new strength, force and energy—out of your Food.

If taken starving, they will do you no good at all.

So eat to live, and live to eat, with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

The curse of our present civilization is exhaustion.

And exhaustion, whether of brain, nerves, physical strength, or vital force, is caused by starvation.

Of two evils, it is better to overeat (and prevent indigestion with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets), than to rise from the table, not having eaten enough to repair the exhaustion of your vital forces.

For exhaustion or starvation leads to the most varied forms of sickness or disease, brought on by inability of the weakened vitality to counteract the disease—poisons and microbes.

Whereas, the well-fed and well-nourished person, without ever feeling the worse for it, can expose himself to dangers, the mere thought of which would drive the weak, starving dyspeptic into a panic fit.

Good food, well digested, is the great secret of a healthful existence here on earth.

Eat heartily, every day, of the best food you can get, and regulate the working of your digestive machinery with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

As a result, you will be astonished to find how much stronger and livelier you feel, how much more and better work you can do, how much more pleasure you will get out of life, and how your old enemy, that chronic trouble which has fastened upon your weak spot, wherever it is, will up and away, and ever after leave you in peace, health and comfort.

There's more truth than poetry in all this. Try it once.
